FOREWORD

We rarely improve upon the beauty of nature by our developments and improvements. We can always, though, in our conquest of nature, keep in mind the preservation of those values upon which our life depends. Conservation means wise use of natural resources. Wise use means to get full value and to put back certain values. The great industrial and agricultural life of Texas can go on for centuries if plans are made to protect the natural vegetation on the hills, to stop the erosion of the soil, and to preserve those areas of beauty which rest and re-create the mind and body.

DEDICATION

THE COMET of 1932

is respectfully dedicated to

MR. A. J. ZILKER

not only because of his gift to the Austin Public Schools, but also because of his leadership in the civic and industrial life of Texas

OLD MAN TEXAS'
FAVORITE SON

Cotton Picking

Darkies on staunch bended knee,
Chant and sing but cannot see
The beauty of the far stretched field
Of sturdy stalk and hoary boll; of romance unrevealed.

Sprightly, 'neath the timorous sun of dawn,
Tirelessly, 'neath the brazen sun of noon,
The darky glories in his brawn,
For night time brings the moon.

He is an animated automaton
In a universe of cotton
That plucks and plucks the tight pressed bolls,
And to a clamoring world white cotton doles.

He does not know what power greater than his own
That makes huge wheels purr and whirr and drone;
That sends his fluffy product to the distant land;
That fashions it into necessity—luxury; ever in demand.

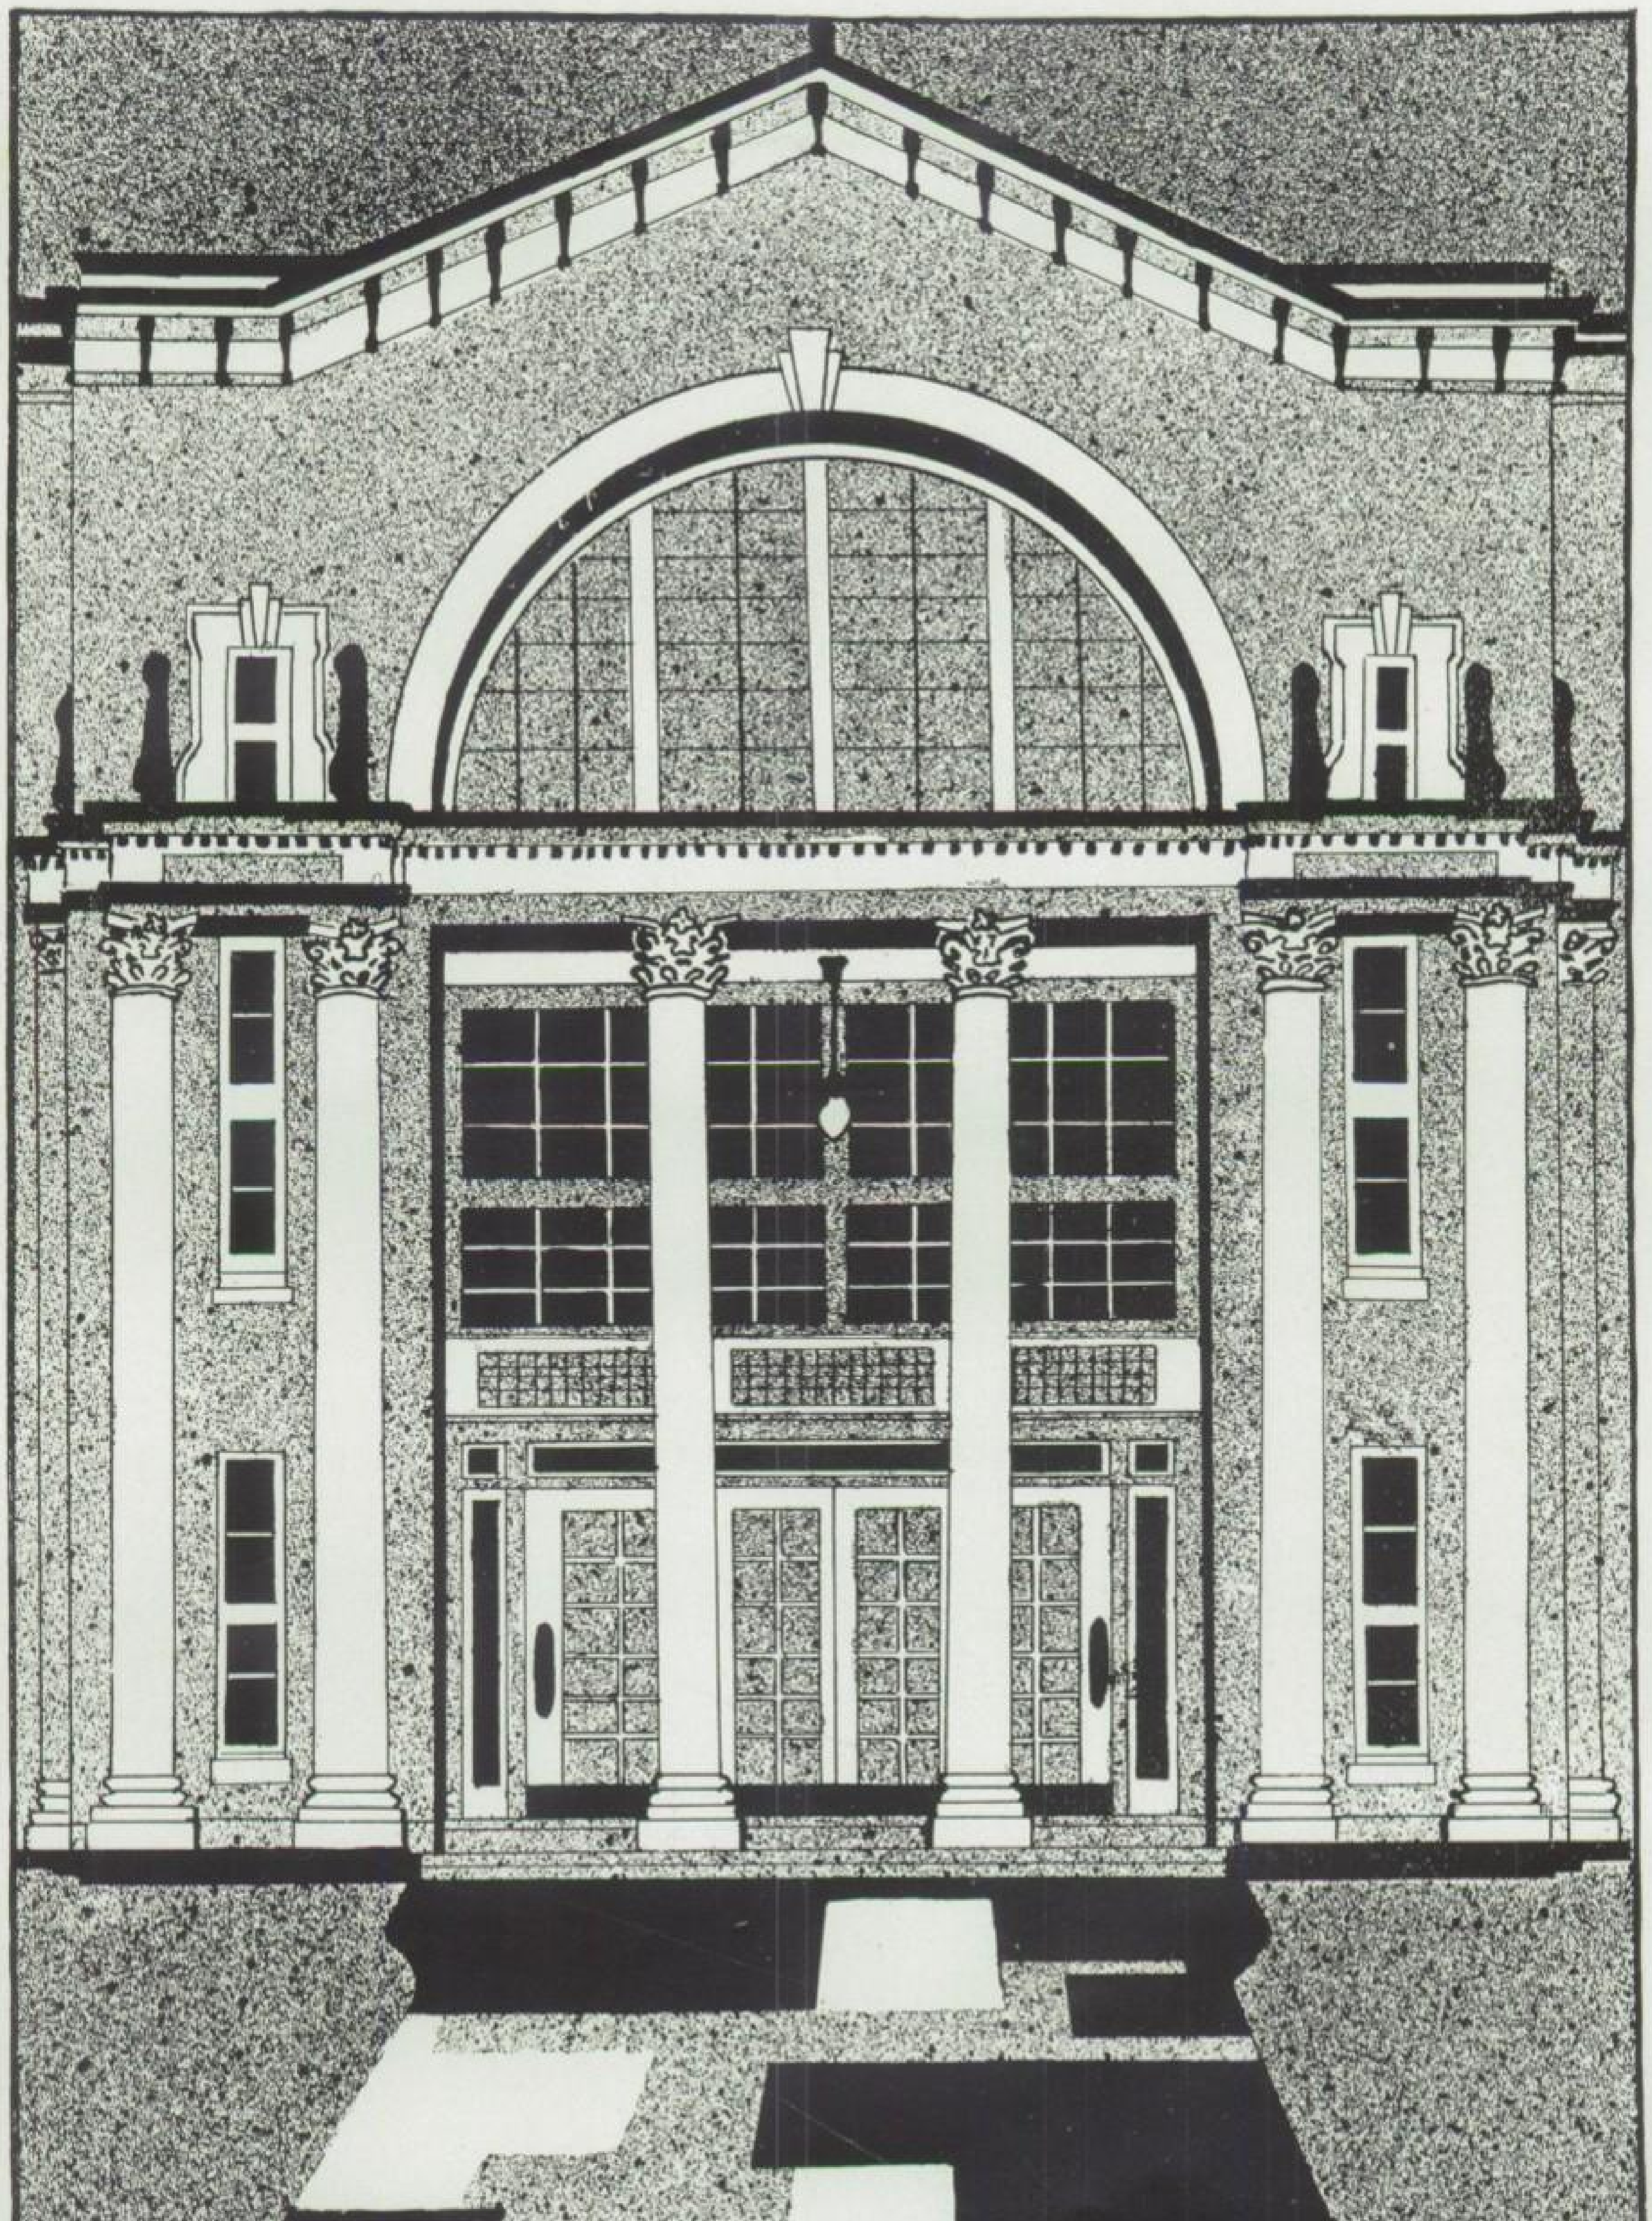

—Benjalyn Ater.

Board of Education

To the Graduates:

The Board of Trustees will bestow upon you in a few weeks a great honor—a diploma from the Austin High School. Your Alma Mater has behind it a long record of distinguished service in the making of men and women. In all the years of its history, it has stood for sincere work, for devotion to the finer things of life, for intellectual as well as moral honesty, for impatience with the shallow and the sham, for clear thinking and clean living.

My feeling is one of anxiety that all the good things of life may come to you, that you may find a way to still higher achievement—not only in personal advancement, but by your own definite contributions in spirit and in vision to the public good and to the larger life of this community and of the State we love so well.

Sincerely,

A. N. McCallum

To the Student of Austin High School:

Imperial Texas yields its fruits of cotton, oil, lumber, and wool. But the greatest wealth of any commonwealth is found, not in its material values, but in the intelligence, industry, and spiritual force of its citizens.

It is our hope and will always be our aim that as you become the product of Austin High School you may acquire those qualities of mind, those attitudes of heart, and that consecration of spirit which will bountifully increase the richness of Imperial Texas.

Sincerely yours,

Geo. H. Wells.

Boosting the Old High School

Faithful and true hearted,
Let us boost for Austin High,
We revere her and defend her,
And her colors proudly fly—Rah, Rah!
We will stand for her, united;
Of her deeds we gladly tell,
Her colors streaming,
Glad faces beaming.
So here's a cheer for the school
That we all love so well.

Chorus

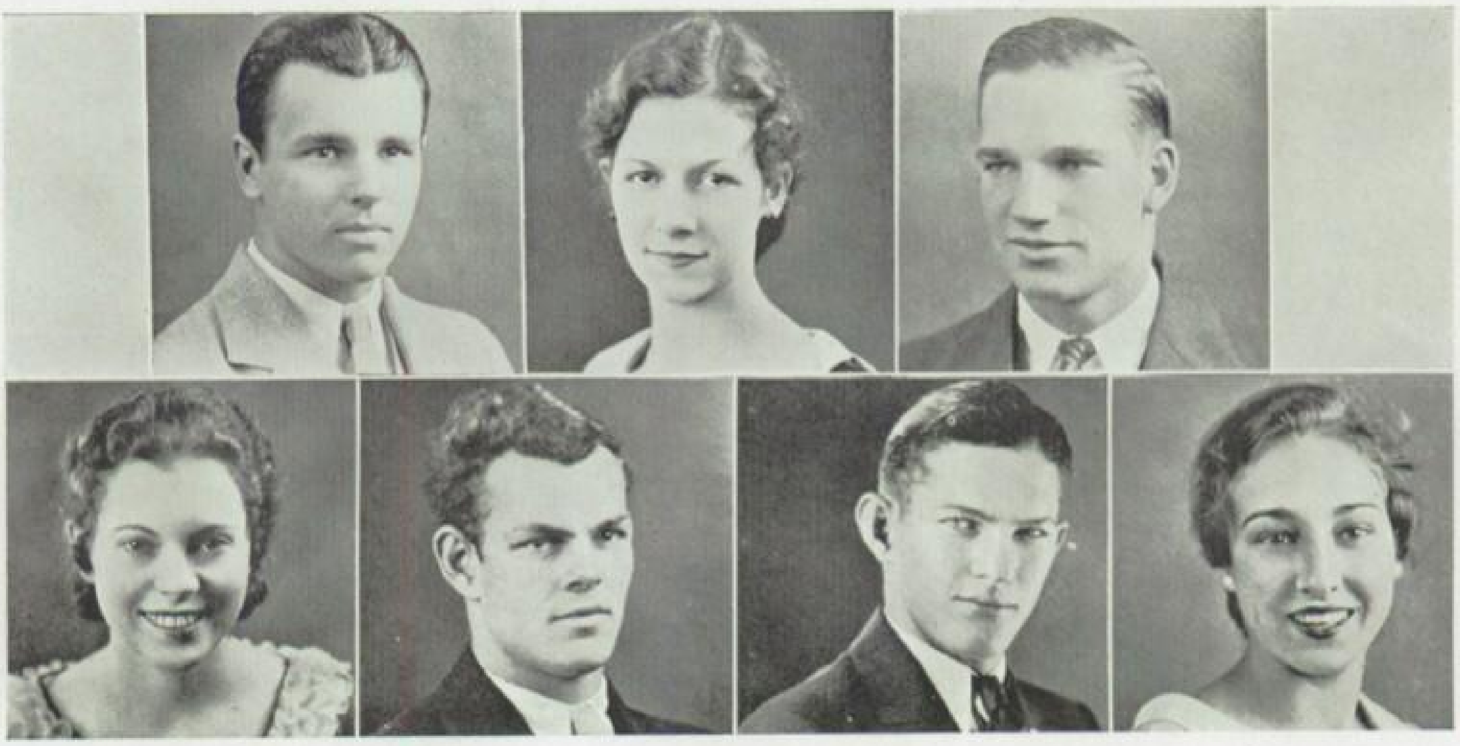

Joyous and ever loyal,
Let us boost for Austin High;
Let ev'ry heart sing;
Let ev'ry voice ring;
There's no time to grieve or sigh.
It's ever onward
Our course pursuing;
May defeat ne'er our ardor cool;
But united, we will boost for her,
Our Old High School.

The Order of
SCHOLASTIC EXCELLENCE

In order to fitly recognize excellence in curricular studies, the Order of Scholastic Excellence was instituted by The Comet of 1924. At that time the required average was B— for four years, or the fraction of, spent in the Austin High Schools. This year the minimum average has been raised to A—. All students in good standing and having at least this average, or better, automatically receive the award of Scholastic Excellence. The awards are made in The Comet of the year of graduation.

Dawn

THE dawn it came
A molten red, a flame
Upon the jade green sea.
Like a ship it came
With blood red sails
Upon the cold green sea.
And its hull was gold
Of a pirate's chest
Upon the surging sea.
A mighty haze
Formed a golden blaze
Upon the silent sea.

—JOHNNY JOSEPH.

Clouds

The sky is a sea, a beautiful sea,
And the clouds are the ships that ride;
That touch at the ports of the stars at night,
And wait for the morning tide.

The sky is a sea, a wild, wild sea,
And the clouds are the waves of gray,
And the thunder that rolls is the boom of the surf,
And the rain is the flying spray.

The sky is a sea, a blue, blue sea,
And the clouds are the islands there,
Where the mermaids of the sky may sit,
And comb out their golden hair.

The sky is a sea, a glorious sea,
When at last the day is done,
And the clouds are a funeral barge that floats
Away with the dying sun.

—HELEN FAY PASSMORE.

One Act Play Tournament

"The No 'Count Boy"

PAUL GREEN

CAST

The No 'Count Boy	JOHN E. GREEN
An Old Negro Woman	ROSE ALICE ROBERTS

For two consecutive years the Red Dragon Players have entered a tragedy in the Interscholastic League One-Act Play Contest, but this year Austin High School's entry in this event was a negro comedy, "The No 'Count Boy," by Paul Green.

Confronted with the difficult task of following a play that won the state contest last year; as well as the fact that, out of seven contests entered, Austin has won six of them, the players selected this year, nevertheless, strove valiantly to maintain the traditions established by those members of the Red Dragon Players, who have in the past brought renown to the dramatic department.

"The No 'Count Boy" is a pathetic little episode in the lives of the negroes whose lives and hearts we see through the medium of this play. It combines all the wistfulness and vague yearnings of the negro race with the joyous and sparkling side of their natures.

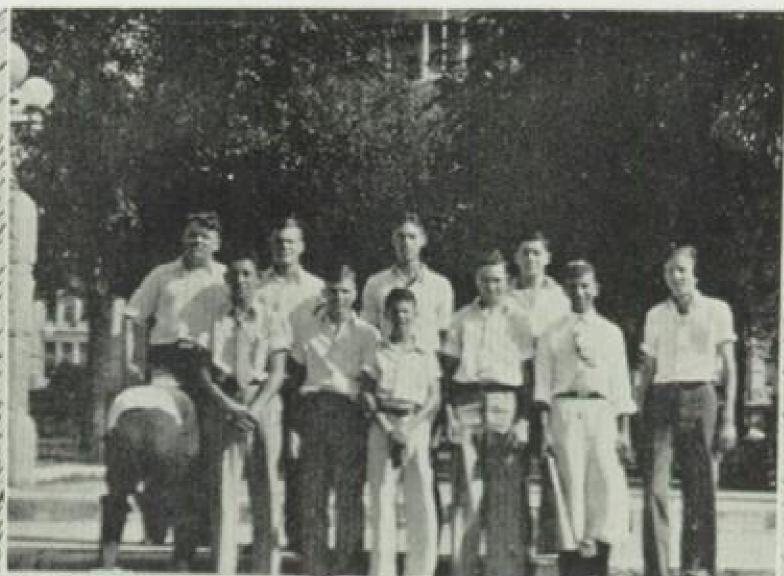

In the district meet held in San Marcos on April first the Austin entry was awarded a unanimous decision for first place.

Oil

Black ooze, foul, oleaginous,
Welling forth from the pierced veins of the Earth-Mother—
Blood of the forests a million years dead;
Blood of the epochs Silurian, Devonian;
Blood of the Tertiary, of lumbering saurians,
Toothed and armored;
Blood of the life on the floor of the sea.
The aged earth cooling, slowly contracting,
Folded and crushed all in timeless embrace.
Then through the infinite night of the planet
Forces unseen, pressure resistless,
Mixing, straining, heating, distilling
In monstrous alembic
Wrought together the wonder of oil.

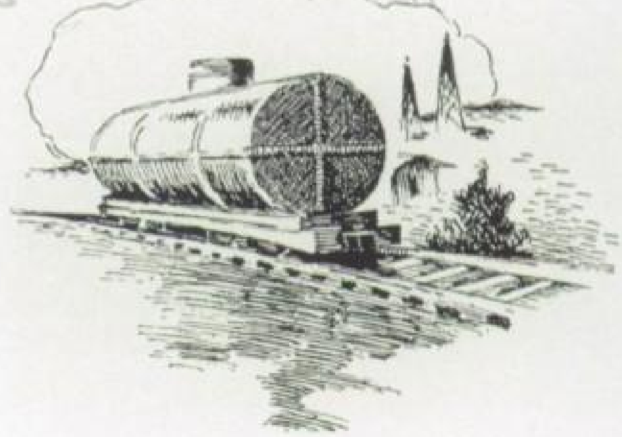

Man the vain, weak and ridiculous;
Man the crafty, self-seeking, conscienceless;
Wounds the Earth-Mother, drains her life-blood,
Wastes and spills her hoarded treasure.
Mushroom villages, spawn of the prairie,
Blacken the smiling face of the plain.
Vice foully feeds on mad men and sad men
Who stumble amid the tangle of derricks
Foul spiders, black with the blood they have sucked.

When the day, cold as death dawning,
Finds the last drop drained,
And the stratas dry and empty;
Machines throughout the planet useless,
Airplane, automobile, submarine,
Engines industrial, military, all—
By a dreadful plague, smitten by a vast paralysis;
Then shall man, helpless, bewail his laws,
Lumbering, unsocial, primitive,
Toothed and clawed for individual gain;
Vainly regret the greed and blindness
Of the immemorial race of men.

Sulphur

Known of old to the heroes of Homer,
In times mediaeval the alchemists sought
To solve by its magic the unending puzzle,
To transmute the baser metals to gold.

Sages of China with craft uncanny
Fashioned explosives; then cannons were born.
War's cruel visage grew fiercer and bloodier;
Victims unnumbered bestrewed the wide plain.

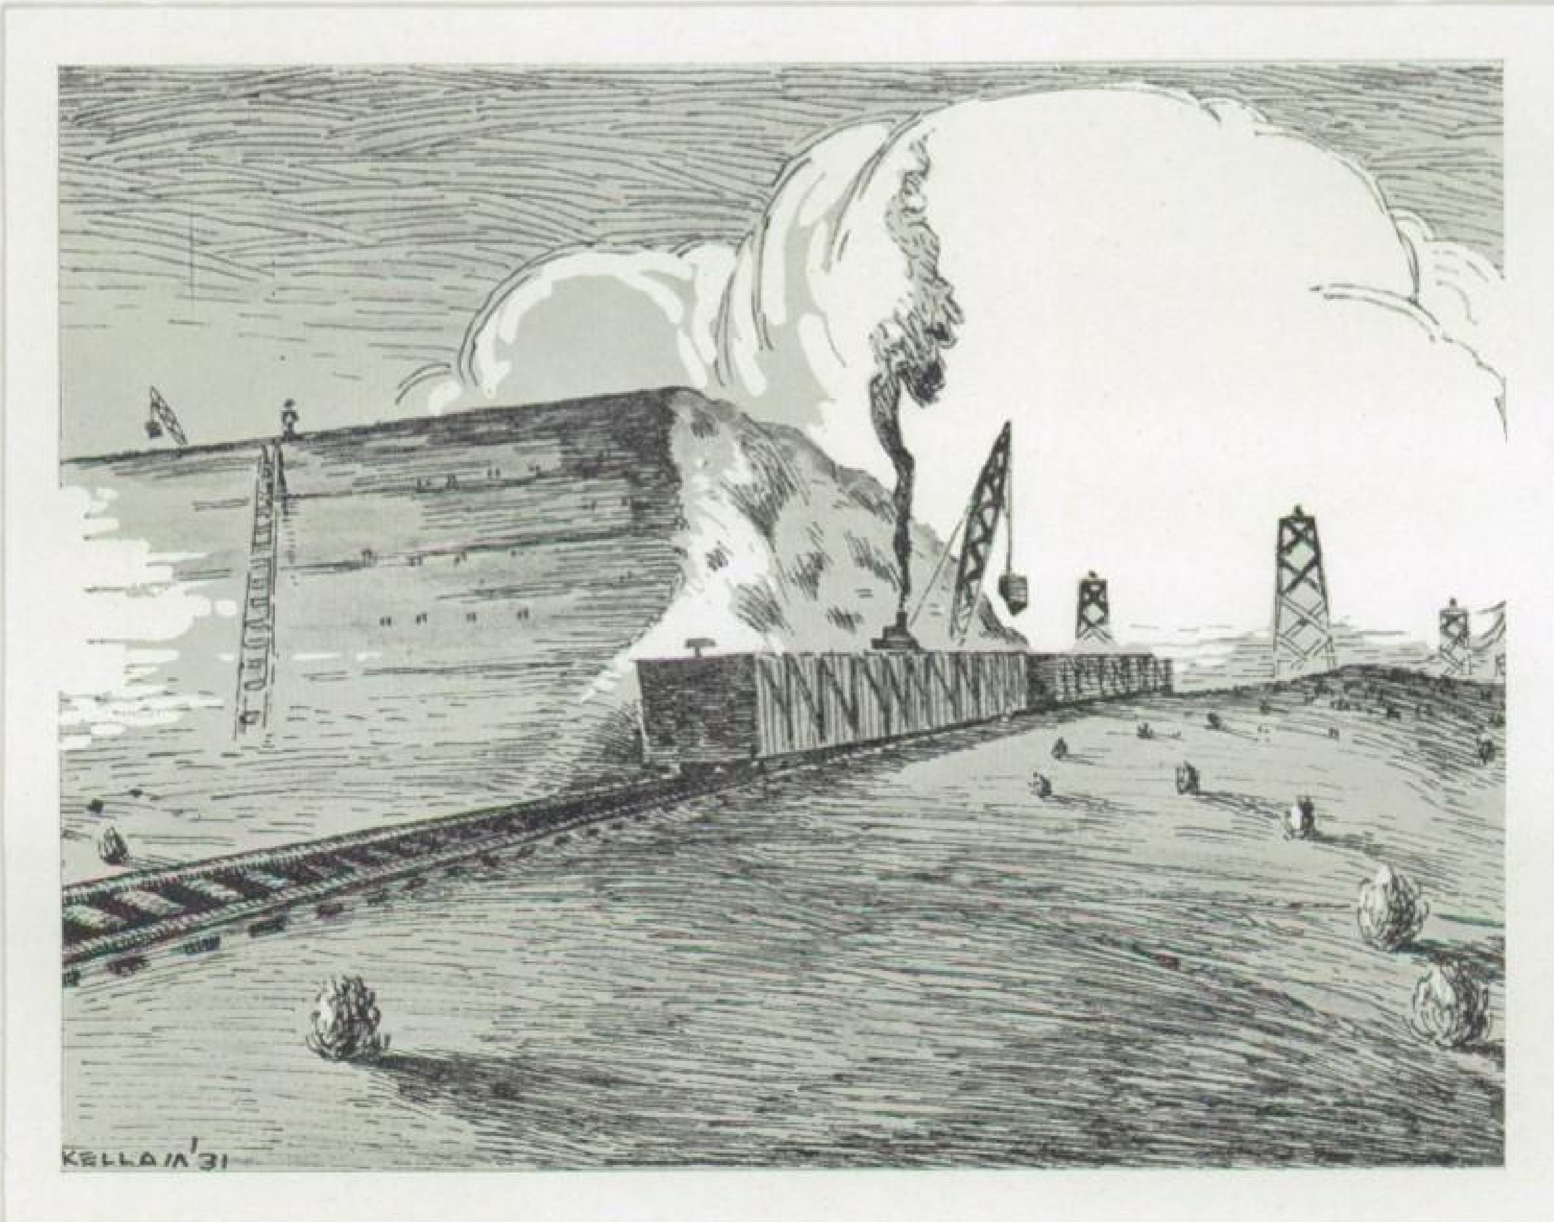

By it Cortez overcame Montezuma;
Ground a proud nation under his heel.
For it his soldiers scaled the volcano;
Sank to its seething sulphurous depths.

Time was when Italy, home of volcanoes,
Furnished the sulphur for industry's mills
Now the broad coastal plain of great Texas
Pours forth its bounty in generous stream.

Artisans cunning, craftsmen full able
Fashion the battery, tire, and film.
Nature, too generous, pours in full measure,
Wealth without stint for the world's greater use.

Blind are we all if we do not protect it,
Save it, maintain it, the wealth of the race,
Keep our inheritance for those who follow,
Build up a nation of glorious men.

Due to the fact that the Hi-Y Club was outgrowing the leadership of one sponsor, a new club was begun. The two Austin High School Clubs and the Junior School clubs work in the closest harmony, all striving to one end: the good of the school and community. It is hoped that the Older Boys' Conference, a meeting of all the boys in this portion of the state, will take place in Austin this next year.

Baseball Club

The Baseball Club was organized early in September, 1929 to satisfy the demand for a greater knowledge of the national pastime.

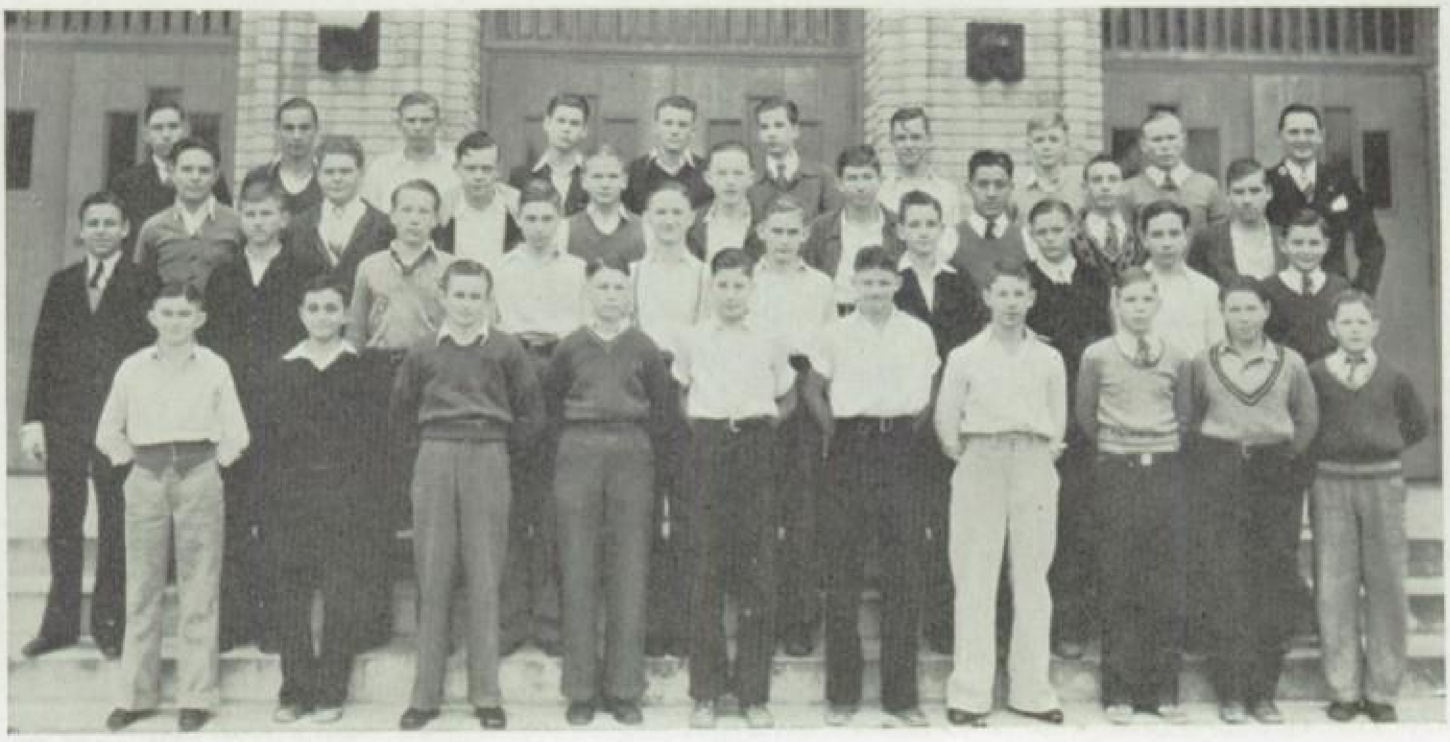

The aim of the club is to study the science of baseball, to understand the fundamentals of individual and team play, and to have a thorough knowledge of the rules.

The Baseball Club has no officers, and membership is open to all boys in the school who are seriously interested in a scientific study of the game.

Practically all members of the Baseball Club are candidates for the Austin High School baseball team.

Baseball Club

The Baseball Club has been very active in school life since its foundation. During football season the Club took charge of car parking. However, the club is interested primarily in baseball, as is shown by its name. Consequently, it has faithfully backed the baseball team during the whole of the season. Much of the success of the team is due to this splendid support. Most of all, the club is indebted to the fine instruction of its sponsor, Mr. Williams.

SET FROM "THE BLACK FLAMINGO"

The Red Dragon Players

The Red Dragon Players have long ago established their reputation as an organization with the serious intent of producing worth while plays in a systematic manner. During the season of 1931-32 they have continued to produce the high class performances for which they have been noted in the past.

Opening with a two night run of their first presentation, "The New Poor," early in November, they started their new season off with a comedy that gave added interest to the forthcoming offerings of this season. Since but few of the old members were back to carry on the show, this first production marked the debut of many of the players, who have since become outstanding in the organization.

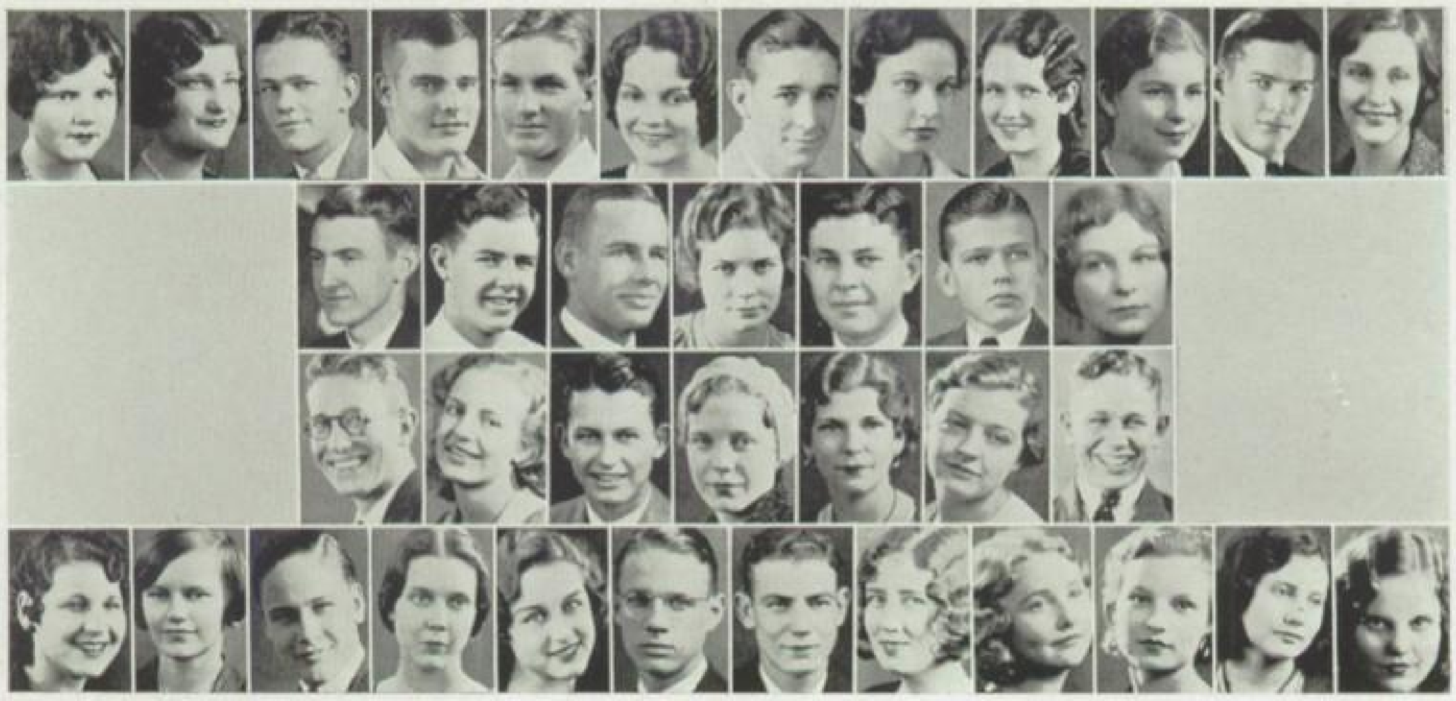

Following the precedent of former years, the Players turned to a bill of one-act plays for their December offering. This offering is always of interest, since it combines players of former years as well as the present time. The plays chosen this year were "The Birthday of the Infanta," "The Mouse," and "Our Lady Smiles."

For a winter presentation, the Players point with pride to their production of "The Black Flamingo," the most ambitious and successful of their many presentations. Turning again to costume and historical background, the Players scored a decided hit with their first three night attraction. The setting for this production was the most elaborate ever built by the organization and was a great factor in the success of the presentation.

Maroons Defeat Taylor

Although the Austin Maroons opened their season with an inexperienced backfield, except for Captain Pee Wee Beard and Blackmore, they defeated the Taylor High Ducks 7 to 0 in Taylor, September 25.

The game was a hard fought one from start to finish. Friedman, Pee Wee Beard, and Blackmore were the outstanding backs while Eggeling, Helf, Chapman, Taylor, and Kohn were the stalwarts in the Maroon line. The only serious mishap of the game was a broken ankle received by Buck Friedman.

Austin vs. Georgetown

Playing under floodlights for the first time in local football history, the Crimson Tide of Austin defeated the Eagles of Georgetown 48 to 0 at House Park, October 2.

The Maroons ran wild throughout the game. Hargrave, Pee Wee and Joe Beard, and Blackmore all made touchdowns for the Maroons. It was the work of the Maroon forward wall that ripped the Eagles' line to pieces time and again.

Captain Henderson, Allen, and Harris were the main cogs in the Georgetown team.

Temple Defeats Austin

The Austin High Maroons journeyed to Temple only to return with a 13 to 0 defeat handed to them by their hosts, the Temple Wildcats.

Co-Captain Pee Wee Beard, Joe Beard, and Hargrave were the main ball carriers for the Crimson Kids. In the line Helf, Co-Captain Eggeling, Kohn, Laws, Chapman, and Taylor threw the Wildcats for many losses, but not enough to keep them from scoring.

Captain McFarland, Southerland, and Coffey were the outstanding backs for the Wildcats.

Caldwell Goes Down in Defeat

Carrying the pigskin under floodlights for the second time, the Austin Maroons defeated the Caldwell High Hornets 27 to 7 at House Park, October 16.

The two Beard brothers and Blackmore, who was substituting for Friedman, were the backfield aces for the Maroons. The great work of Carlstrand, Ross, Taylor, and Helf in the line was an important factor in the Maroons' victory.

Maroons Skin Del Rio Wildcats

Austin's Maroons opened the district race with a 31 to 0 victory over the Wildcats of Del Rio, at House Park.

After making a touchdown early in the game, the Maroon backs kept running up the score. Pee Wee scored three touchdowns; the other two resulted from his passing, one to his brother, Joe, and the other to Jack Taylor. Helf was the outstanding linesman, but Chapman, Eggeling, Nichols, and Ross also shared honors with him.

Dean was the Wildcats' defensive star.

Austin and Main Tie

Old rivals were fighting desperately to score in San Antonio when Austin and Main Avenue clinched in a scoreless tie October 31.

Neither team was able to hit its stride during the game. It was the punting of Smith, Main end, that helped to keep the Maroons from scoring. Main Avenue threatened to score near the end of the game, while Austin threatened in the first and third quarters but failed to do so because of fumbles.

The Maroons' forward wall broke through time and again to break up Main's double-reverse plays, passes, and running attack. Co-Captain Beard, Adcock, Blackmore, and Hargrave were the backfield aces, while Nichols, Taylor, Helf, Kohn, and Eggeling were all outstanding in the line.

Maroons Scalp Indians

The Harlandale Indians were scalped by the Maroons of Austin, when they were defeated 20 to 6 on the Maroon field, November 5.

Although they tried all their tricks, the Indians were unable to score more than once on the powerful Crimson Kids. Joe and Pee Wee Beard shared honors with Gonzales and Hargrave as backfield aces. Perry was Austin's outstanding linesman. Ross and Nichols shared honors with Perry.

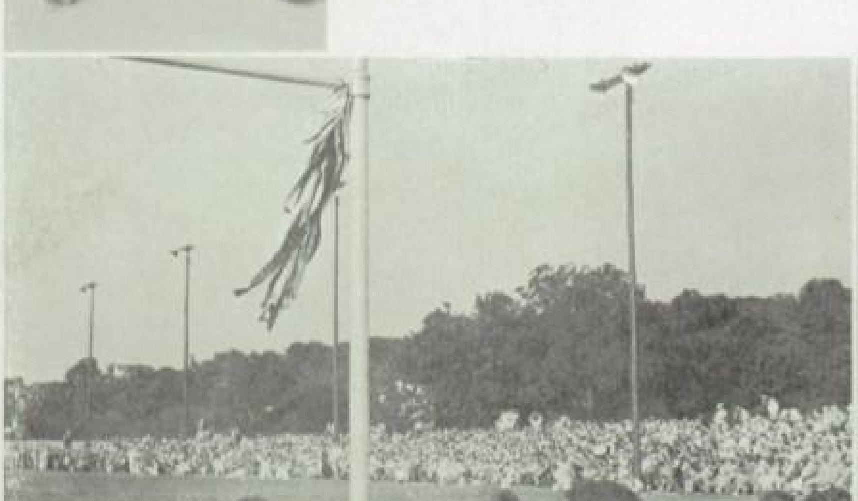

The Indians' score resulted from an intercepted lateral pass. This was the first score made against the Maroons in the district.

Brackenridge Eagles Scream

Bennie Strickland's Austin Maroons made the Brackenridge Eagles scream when they handed them a 20 to 0 defeat on Armistice day at House Park.

Late in the third quarter, Pee Wee broke loose to run 92 yards for a touchdown through the entire Brackenridge team. The whole Maroon squad was working together beautifully. Taylor, the two Beard brothers, Adcock, and Blackmore crashed through the Brackenridge line and circled their ends for many gains. It was the notable work of Co-Captain Eggeling, Chapman, Kohn, Laws, Helf, Ross, and Nichols that broke up the Eagles' plays.

Captain Melugin played a good game for the Eagles. He was ably assisted by Fenner and Martin in the backfield.

According to most sports writers, the Eagles had a much stronger team than the Maroons and were doped to win, but the Maroons gave the dopebucket one of the hardest kicks that it has received in years.

Antlers Defeated by Maroons

The Maroons cleared another hurdle that barred their way to the title of District 12 when they defeated Tivy High 15 to 0. Co-Captain Beard scored early in the game and again in the last quarter. Perry threw Captain Dismukes for a safety in the third quarter.

Joe and Pee Wee Beard, Blackmore, and Adcock played a good game for the Maroons. It was in this game that Buck Friedman again saw service. Austin's forward wall kept the Maroon goal uncrossed.

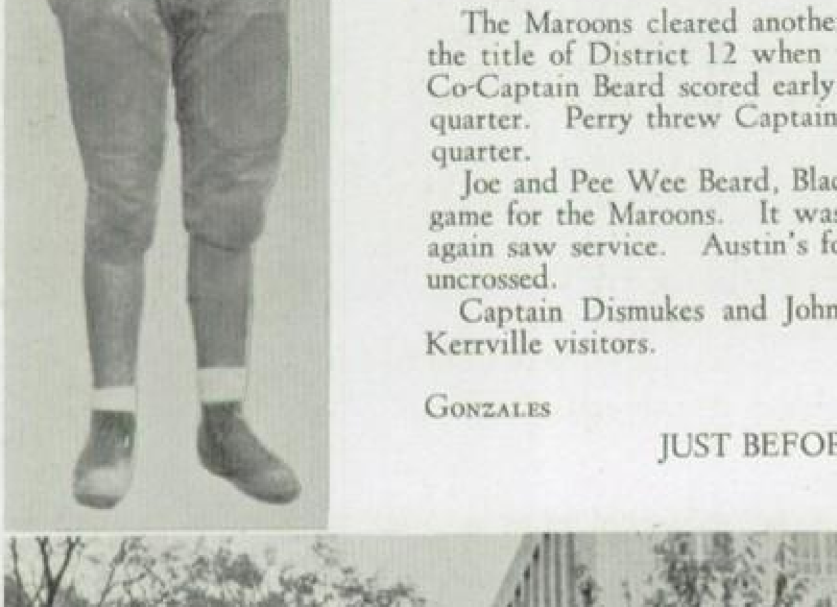

Captain Dismukes and Johnson played a good game for the Kerrville visitors.

Maroons Win District 12 Title

The Maroons won the District 12 title by defeating the Alamo Heights Mules, Thanksgiving Day, 26 to 6. Substitutes played most of the game for the Maroons. Storm, Walker, and Searight played a good game in the backfield. Perry, Childress, Deeg, Weiss, and Patterson were the stalwarts in the Maroon line. Norton was the Mules' outstanding back. Alamo Heights was the second team to score on the District 12 champions.

Maroons vs. Panthers

(Bi-district)

The Crimson Tide of Austin retained the bi-district championship when they defeated the Austin High Panthers of El Paso 21 to 0.

Beard, Hargrave, and Taylor were the scorers for the Maroons. Hargrave intercepted a pass and ran 60 yards for the last tally. This was the longest run of the day. The Maroons stopped the aerial attack of the Panthers, who were unable to gain yardage through such linesmen as Helf, Co-Captain Eggeling, Chapman, Laws, and Ross. Friedman, Blackmore, and Adcock each turned in a good game at line plunging.

Passes from Salome Baird gained the visitors a generous yardage but never enough at one time to score.

By virtue of this win, the Maroons entered the state quarter finals.

Austin Falls Before Tigers State Quarter Finals

The Austin Maroons went down in defeat before the Corsicana Tigers in Corsicana in the state quarter-finals race by a score of 7 to 6 on December 12. The Maroon and White outplayed their hosts throughout the game but fate seemed to be against them. Often the Maroon forward wall broke through to throw Wilson, Corsicana's All-State halfback, for a loss. The Bengals scored on a pass from Crowter to Stewart early in the second period. The Maroons scored on a pass from Pee Wee to Taylor in the third quarter, but failed at the try for the extra point.

Pee Wee and Joe Beard, Friedman, Adcock, and Blackmore carried the pigskin for gain after gain through the entire Corsicana team, but failed to cross the precious marker more than once. Up in the forward wall Taylor, Helf, Laws, Eggeling, Kohn, Ross, and Chapman all smeared the Tigers for losses.

Co-Captain Pee Wee Beard, Adcock, Blackmore, Ross, Taylor, Nichols, Helf, Kohn, Perry, Co-Captain Eggeling, Chapman, and Laws all played their last game of football for the Maroon and White.

Storm — Morrow

According to most sports writers, the Maroons did not stand any sort of a chance of winning the district 12 championship, because of the loss of Buster Nelson and Jimmy Donaldson, last year's stars, but the boys had the old fighting spirit in them and showed the sports scribes where they were wrong. At Corsicana they proved to the people of Texas that they were still fighting Maroons of Austin.

The chances for a district 12 title were anything but bright for the Austin High School at the beginning of the 1931 season. Nearly all of last year's backfield men were lost by the eligibility route. Pee Wee Beard and Blackmore were the only experienced backfield men returning to the Maroon squad. However, Coach Strickland did the unexpected when he got his charges to working and produced another championship team. This was Coach Strickland's second district and second bi-district championship eleven within three years. Four football titles within three years is a record that is hard to beat. The Maroon Coach deserves a great deal of credit for the football teams he has produced.

Although Co-Captain Pee Wee Beard was not placed on the Associated Press's All-State eleven he was picked over its selection, for the All-Southern Mythical team made up of players all over the South. Many sports writers put Beard on their All-State teams. Pee Wee also was on the All-District eleven.

JOSEPH

Heinie Helf was picked by some sports scribes as the best tackle in the state. Helf, also, was on the District team. Alvin Eggeling, Co-Captain and guard, was put on some All-State teams and on the District eleven.

Coach Strickland's prospects for the 1932 season are not as bright as they could be. There will be three letter men and ten reserve letter men returning to the Maroon field next year. In the backfield there are Joe Beard, Hargrave, Friedman, Gonzales, Storm, and Walker. In the line there are Patterson, Morrow, and Dobrowolski at the end posts; Childress at tackle; Sappington and Weiss at guards; and Russell at center. The three letter men returning are Joe Beard, Hargrave, and Friedman.

The Maroon mentor could hardly wish for a more experienced backfield but he could use a more experienced line. All the returning linesmen saw some service during the 1931 season, although not enough to be called seasoned linesmen. Here's hoping, however, that they again do the unexpected.

Coach Bennie Strickland opened his 1932 basketball season with only four letter-men returning. They were Jack Taylor, Pee Wee Beard, Alvin Eggeling, and Ed Walker. Four reserve lettermen of the 1931 squad returned, namely: Robertson, Carlstrand, Sansing, and Chapman. Newcomers to the squad were Quinn, Joe Beard, Nitschke, and Gatoura.

The Maroons opened their season by defeating Harlandale 26 to 13, January 9 in Austin. The following night the Crimson Kids dropped a game to the Temple Wildcats 26 to 23 on a slick floor. The next week they dropped another to the powerful Brackenridge Eagles 29 to 16. The next game the Maroons lost to Waco 25 to 24, but later got revenge by defeating the Tigers 35 to 27, in Waco. Later in the season the Austin squad lost to the Eagles of Brackenridge 28 to 21 in a return game. The Crimson Tide celebrated the awarding of football sweaters by defeating the Temple Wildcats, who later won the State Championship, 32 to 26.

Coach Strickland used Bird Kohn at center in most of the games, but was unable to play him in the district meet because of his ineligibility.

The Austin Maroons went into the District 19 race as favorites and came out the same way. The Maroons in the opening contest defeated Smithville 38 to 24. Taylor was high point man with 14 points. Eggeling and Chapman were the defensive stars for the Maroons.

The following morning the Crimson Tide eliminated Lake Victor by defeating them 52 to 25. "Eggie" was the leading scorer with 12 tallies; he was followed by Kleinert with 6 points. Coach Strickland sent substitutes in throughout the contest, but they proved to be too much for the Lake Victorians. By virtue of this win the Maroons went to the finals against Thrall, Williamson County champions.

The Crimson Kids trimmed the Thrall cagers to the tune of 50 to 24 in the district finals. Jack Taylor again was high point man with 24 points. The Maroons led throughout the contest although Thrall was fighting to keep the score from running higher. Eggeling and Joe Beard were the mainstays in the Maroons' defense. This year made the third year in a row that the Austin Maroons have won the district title.

The Maroons played the Temple Wildcats, the 1932 State Champions, in a three game series but lost the first 39 to 20 in Temple and later lost a second game 30 to 18 in Austin.

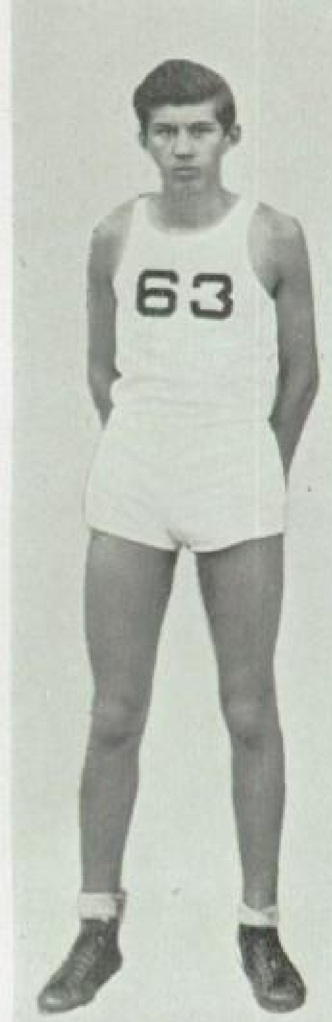

In the first fray, D. Clark was the Wildcats' hot shot with 16 points. This tall lad got most of the tip-offs for his team. Eggeling was the defensive star for Austin. It was the work of this man that kept the Wildcats from scoring more than they did.

In the second contest, "Too-Tall" Clark was not as successful in his tip-offs and shots as he was in the first game. Walker, Eggeling, and Friedman were the main cogs in the Maroons' defense. Taylor and Chapman led in the scoring with six points each.

Eggeling, Chapman, Taylor, Walker, Sansing, Pee Wee Beard, Nitschke, Carlstrand, Robertson, and Gatoura all played their last game for Maroon and White.

Coach Strickland will have two letter men returning next year, Joe Beard and Quinn. Kleinert, Friedman, Storm, and a number of second stringers will defend the Maroon and White in 1933.

Track 1932

The outstanding candidates for the 1932 track team were Lamar Beard, Buck Friedman, Robert Patterson, Mitchell Stark, Moreland Chapman, Joe Beard, and Bill Howard.

The first taste of competition which the team members got was at the Fat Stock Show in Ft. Worth, Texas. Although only four boys took part in the meet, Austin received honors in two events. Mitchell Stark took the first place in the 880 yard run, while Buck Friedman took fourth in the discus throw.

Following this meet Austin showed to advantage in a five-way meet with Bastrop, Lockhart, Llano, and San Marcos Academy. Austin piled up a total of 71 1/3 points, while Lockhart was second, with 48 1/3 points. Lamar Beard was the high point man with 14 counters. He took first place in the 220 low hurdles and 220-yard dash, second in the 100-yard dash, and tied for the fourth in the pole vault. Moreland Chapman won first in the javelin throw and third in the shot-put. Howard stepped away with the mile run, and Mitchell Stark won in the 880-yard run. Joe Beard won the pole vault. Robert Patterson took first honors in the high jump. Austin won nine first places in this meet.

In the meet with Smithville and Taylor, at the Memorial Stadium, Austin's trackmen again showed their superiority. The Maroons won by 67 ½ points to Smithville's 46 ½ and Taylor's 36. Lamar Beard again took off the high point honors with a total of 16 points. He won a first in the 220 low hurdles and in the broad jump. His other points represented second places in the 100 and 220 dashes. Bill Howard took his event, the mile run; while Chapman was first in the shot-put and Patterson in the high jump. Lynn Storm, Ed. Walker, Ed Hill, Lundell, Beaty, and Miller added to Austin's score.

During the latter part of the mile relay, Austin was twenty yards or more behind. At this moment Stark, Austin's anchor man, took the baton. He slowly gained on the leader until he had passed him, then went right on and won the relay for Austin by several yards.

At the next meet with the Texas Military Institute in San Antonio, Austin was defeated by the small margin of two points. Beard continued his classy performance as the high point man of the contest, winning first in the 100-yard dash and the 200-yard low hurdles and second in the broad jump and the pole vault.

Mitchell Stark continued his consistent running, winning the 880-yard run and the 440-yard dash. Joe Beard took the pole vault for Austin and third places in javelin and broad jump. Patterson won the high jump and Howard, the mile run. Buck Friedman used his weight to good advantage in taking first in the discus throw and second in the javelin. Hill took third place in the 220 low and also in the 120 high hurdles. Walker took second in the javelin throw and third in the high jump.

At the district meet in Georgetown on April 6, Austin was forced to take second place with 28 points while Smithville, the winner, won with 38 points. It is felt that Austin would have won if Lamar Beard, classy Austin runner, had not been ill.

At the district, Bill Howard, Mitchell Stark, Buck Friedman, and Joe Beard won first places in their events, the mile run, the 880-yard run, the pole vault, and the shot-put, respectively. These boys and Patterson and Chapman are eligible to enter the State Interscholastic Meet early in May, because of having placed in the district meet.

During this season there were two boys on the Maroon team who did not lose a single time in their events. They are Bill Howard and Mitchell Stark. We hope that they continue this record and win their events in the State Meet.

TARVER McINTYRE

The Austin High Maroon baseball team of 1931 concluded one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school by winning 21 games out of 24 games played. The 1931 squad was one of the strongest that ever represented the school and one of the strongest in the state.

The Championship of Region 2 (district 10-11-14-19) was again won, as in 1930. The Maroon team was the only one in the state to repeat for regional championship honors in 1931. A new local high school record was established with 21 victories in one season.

The Regional Championship is as far as a team can go in baseball. The Inter-scholastic League officials say that baseball season goes too far into May to have a play-off for the State Championship. They also say that it will interfere with examinations, so there is no state championship in baseball.

The Letter-men of 1931 are:

Fourth year—Henry Helf and Bell Moore.

Co-Captains—Norman Walsh, and Clarence Shelton.

Third year—Derden Wofford, Alfred Dobrowolski, Harry Garner, Norman Walsh, and Clarence Shelton.

Second year—John C. Munro, Tommie Pinckney, and Dudley Prade.

First year—George Starr, Woodrow Arbuckle, Buster Nelson, Henry Ramsey, and William Alff.

Tennis

The tennis team was crippled this year by losing its coach, "Uncle Tom" Holland, and sterling players, Grady Gray and Bruce Baxter, who graduated last spring. Nevertheless, the team has continued to uphold its record of never having been defeated by a high school in a dual match. This year Thomas Jefferson High School of San Antonio was defeated with a score of six matches to two. In the near future the team expects to play other high schools in San Antonio, Houston, and Waco. It is felt that Austin High has an excellent chance to win both events of the interscholastic Tennis Meet. Last year the doubles were won by Bruce Baxter and Grady Gray, and Jack Taylor was runner-up in the singles.

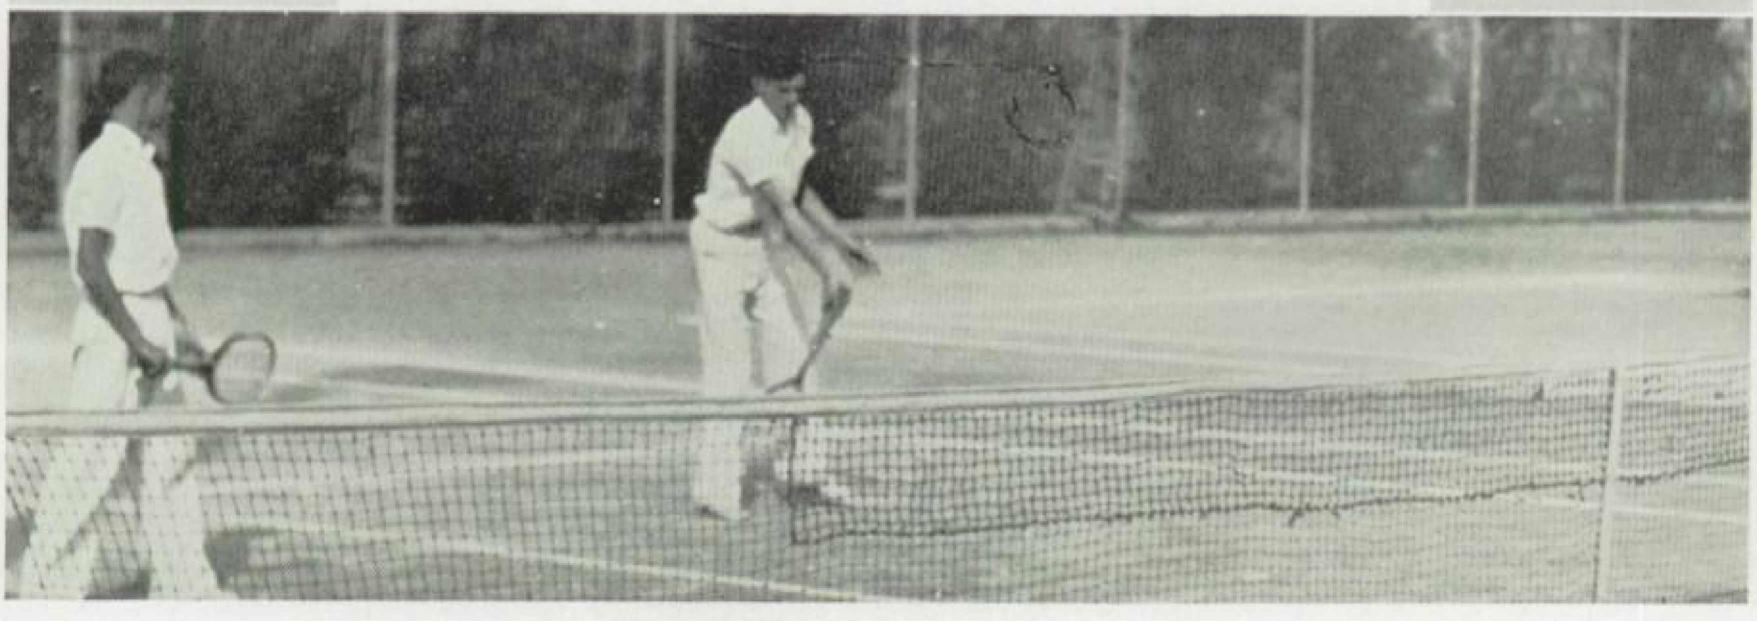

1. Jack Taylor is co-captain of the team. He is a player of much ability, and last year was runner-up in singles in the Interscholastic Tennis Meet. This past summer he won the West Texas singles title, and was runner-up in the Junior Doubles at the Southwest Tournament in San Antonio. A fast well-placed serve is Jack's best shot.

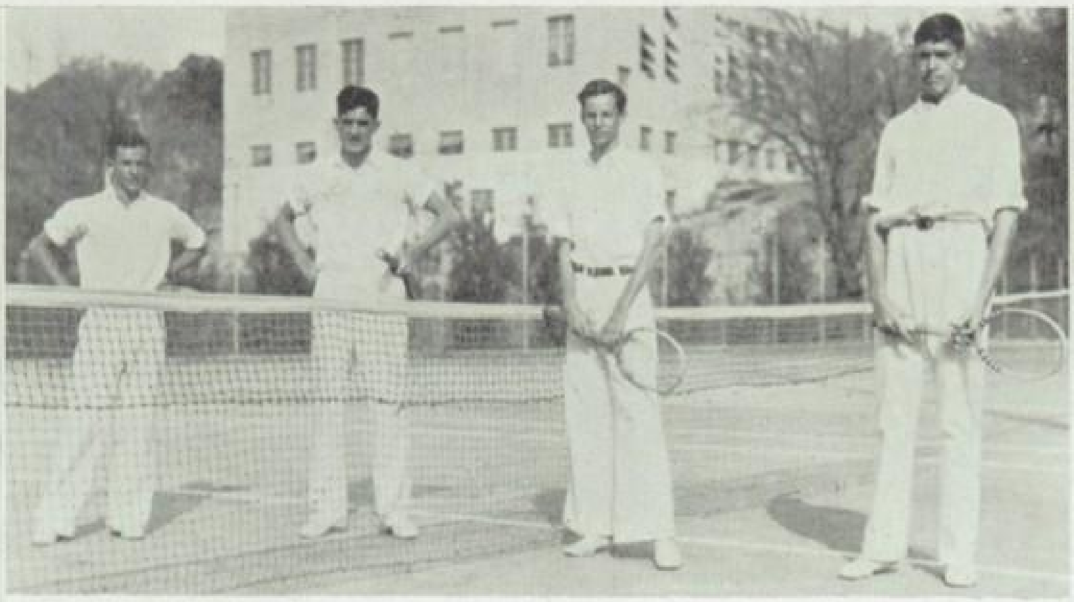

2. Edgar Weller is playing his second year on the team. During the past season Edgar won the Austin Boys' Singles title, the State Municipal Boys' title and the Southwest Boys' singles title. He is best in the back court where he uses his back-hand to good advantage.

3. Bobby Kamrath has probably had more experience than any other member of the team. He had held the Texas State Boys' Doubles title for the past three years. This past year he was winner of tournaments in Texas, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, and Minnesota. He is now ranked 13 in the national boys' singles.

4. Mayo King is the other co-captain. He is the fastest player on the team. Last summer Mayo was runner-up in the Junior Doubles at the Southwest Tournament in San Antonio. Mayo has a fast service and wonderful overhead smash.

5. Frederick Buechel plays his last year with the team this season. His drives are executed with full swing and good form. Fred's height enables him to drive high bouncing balls with ease. He will play a better game of tennis as soon as he gets more experience.

6. Ben Powell has made a place on the team with hardly any practice at all. Ben's game is one that worries his opponent and causes him to err. Ben has a wonderful forehand, which is very steady, and a great change of pace.

Girls' Physical Education

The Girls' Physical Education department is directed by Mrs. Verna Thomason, assisted by Miss Nancy Brandenburg.

The activities consist of acrobatic gymnastics on one day of each week, tap-dancing on two days, and sports on two days. Six sports comprise the year's work. The fall term includes archery, field-hockey, and soccer; the spring term, basketball, teniquoits, and baseball. Interclass tournaments are held at the end of each sport season.

Tap-dancing includes both character and athletic clogs such as: Arkansas Traveler, Liza Jane, Reubin Taps, Dixie, Athletic Line, On Deck, Sambo, and University High Clog. The dances are taught so that the girls gradually increase in skill. Classes are held in the locker-room and the music is furnished by a piano, the gift of the G. A. A.

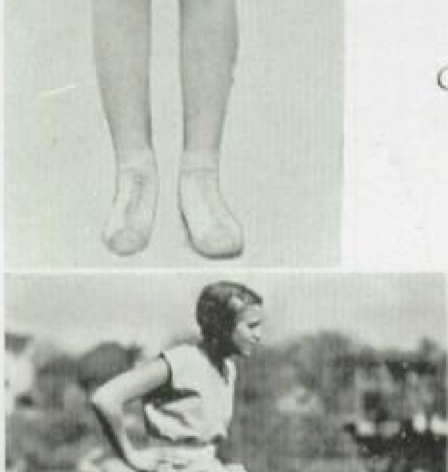

Acrobatic gymastics include stunts, tumbling, and all other forms of self-testing activities. Classes are held in the stunt-room, and much use is made of the equipment. Practice continues in these events throughout the year in anticipation of the interclass tournament to be held at the close of the spring term.

Field Hockey

The advanced classes played field hockey during the fall term. This game is similar to soccer in the line-up; but the ball, which is small, is hit with a curved stick. Bad weather prevented the interclass tournament as had been originally planned. Achievement tests were given, however, at the beginning and at the end of the season to determine the amount of skill that each girl had acquired in handling her stick. The following are the students who distinguished themselves by expert playing: Eva Hart, Francis Hall, Florence Saladee, Myrtle Orand, Pauline Chrisman, Lucille Mick, Kathryn Cox, Zazle Kirkpatrick, Marjorie Mae Brydson, Joyce Wickline and Lucille Dickerson.

Teniquoits

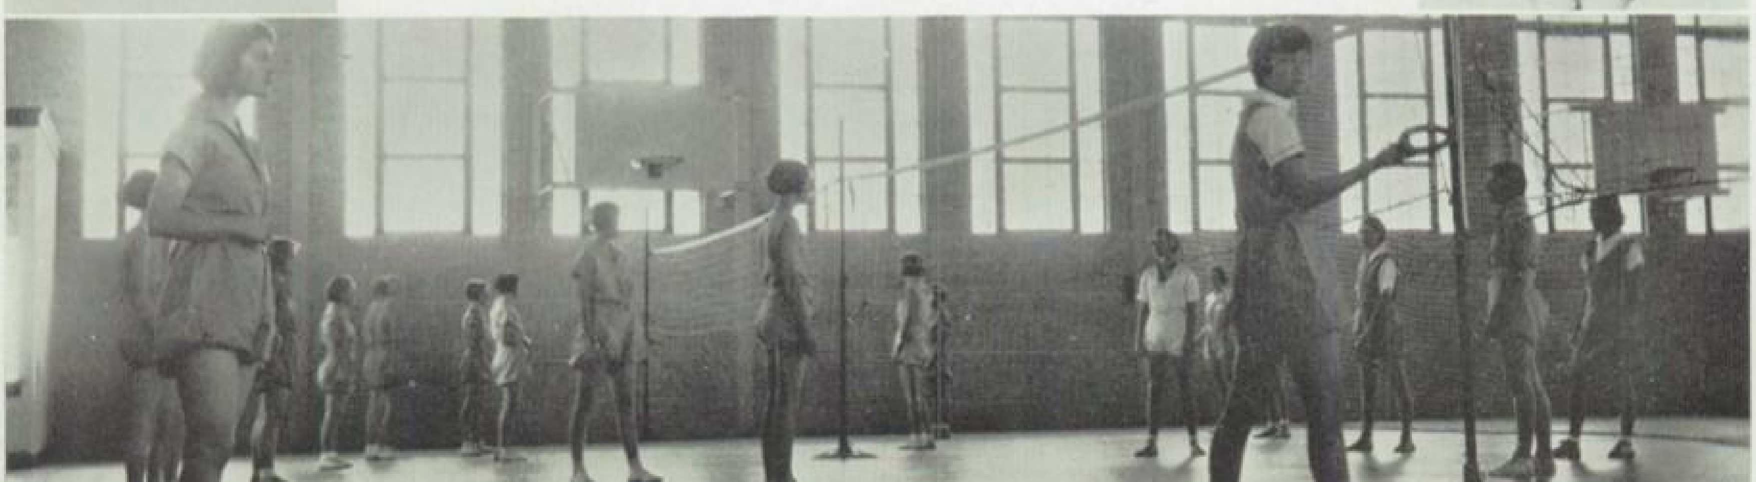

Teniquoits was substituted this spring for volley-ball, because most of the students had played volley-ball before coming to this school. This game is played by tossing a ring to and fro across a net. Scores are made whenever the ring is thrown so that the opponent fails to catch it. Teams, each consisting of four members, were organized and match games were played during the regular class period. The winners of each class then played for the interclass championship.

Archery

Robin Hood would have been greatly surprised had he wandered into House Park last fall. The girls were learning to string bows, to nock arrows, and to shoot. At times some hit the target. Each class elected two representatives and all met for an interclass tournament. Miriam Hollander, third period, won first place in the tournament, and Frances Hall, sixth period, second. Other entries were Marionbess Strong, Hazel Joschke, La Verne Chanaberry, Frieda Mulson, Kathryn Cox, Ruth Phillips, Frances Tucker, Florence Saladee, Norma Emmons, Agnes Swenson, Mary Lois Gowdy, and Willie Freeland.

Soccer

The beginners played soccer during the fall term. Soccer is similar to football; the difference being that in soccer the ball is never touched by the hands. After the players learned a few principles of the game, teams were organized. Each team was composed of five forwards, three halfbacks, two fullbacks, and one goal-keeper. The interclass tournament could not be held due to bad weather. The outstanding players were Mary Hills, Ruth Phillips, Helen Wild, Lillian Armstrong, Dorothy Nell Holman, Martha Watkins, Kleina Pannell, and Alice Sutherland.

Basketball

The spring term classes were divided into basketball teams. During the nine weeks of practice, the teams were taught various team-plays, guarding, goal-shooting, and passing. A tournament was conducted within each class, and then a team was selected to meet for an interclass tournament. During the tournament several members of the teams who were not playing acted as referees, score-keepers, and time-keepers. The following are students who were noted for their excellent playing: Pauline Chrisman, Patty Downing, Lucille Lawson, Corine Blomdahl, Dorothy Nell Holman, Dorothy Maerki, Corine Brewster, Bernice Moore, Myra Murdock, Jane Kingsbery, Jessie Berry, Miriam Mollberg, and Margaret Hill.

Baseball

When spring comes, so does the season of baseball, which everyone loves. Practice was held at House Park during the last six weeks of the spring term. Captains coached their team members in every possible way before the interclass tournament. Achievement tests were given at the beginning and at the end of the season. These tests included pitching at a target, batting into left and right field, and catching and throwing for speed. The girls were graded by the amount of improvement made in these tests. This nationally known game ended our season of sport activities of the year.

Says Old Man Texas

The ground is moist, the season's fine,
The winter oats are growing;
The pastures, green; the cattle, fat;
And all the creeks are flowing.
The field larks on the new turned sod
From very joy are singing;
The robins, fat and lazy now,
Will soon go northward winging.

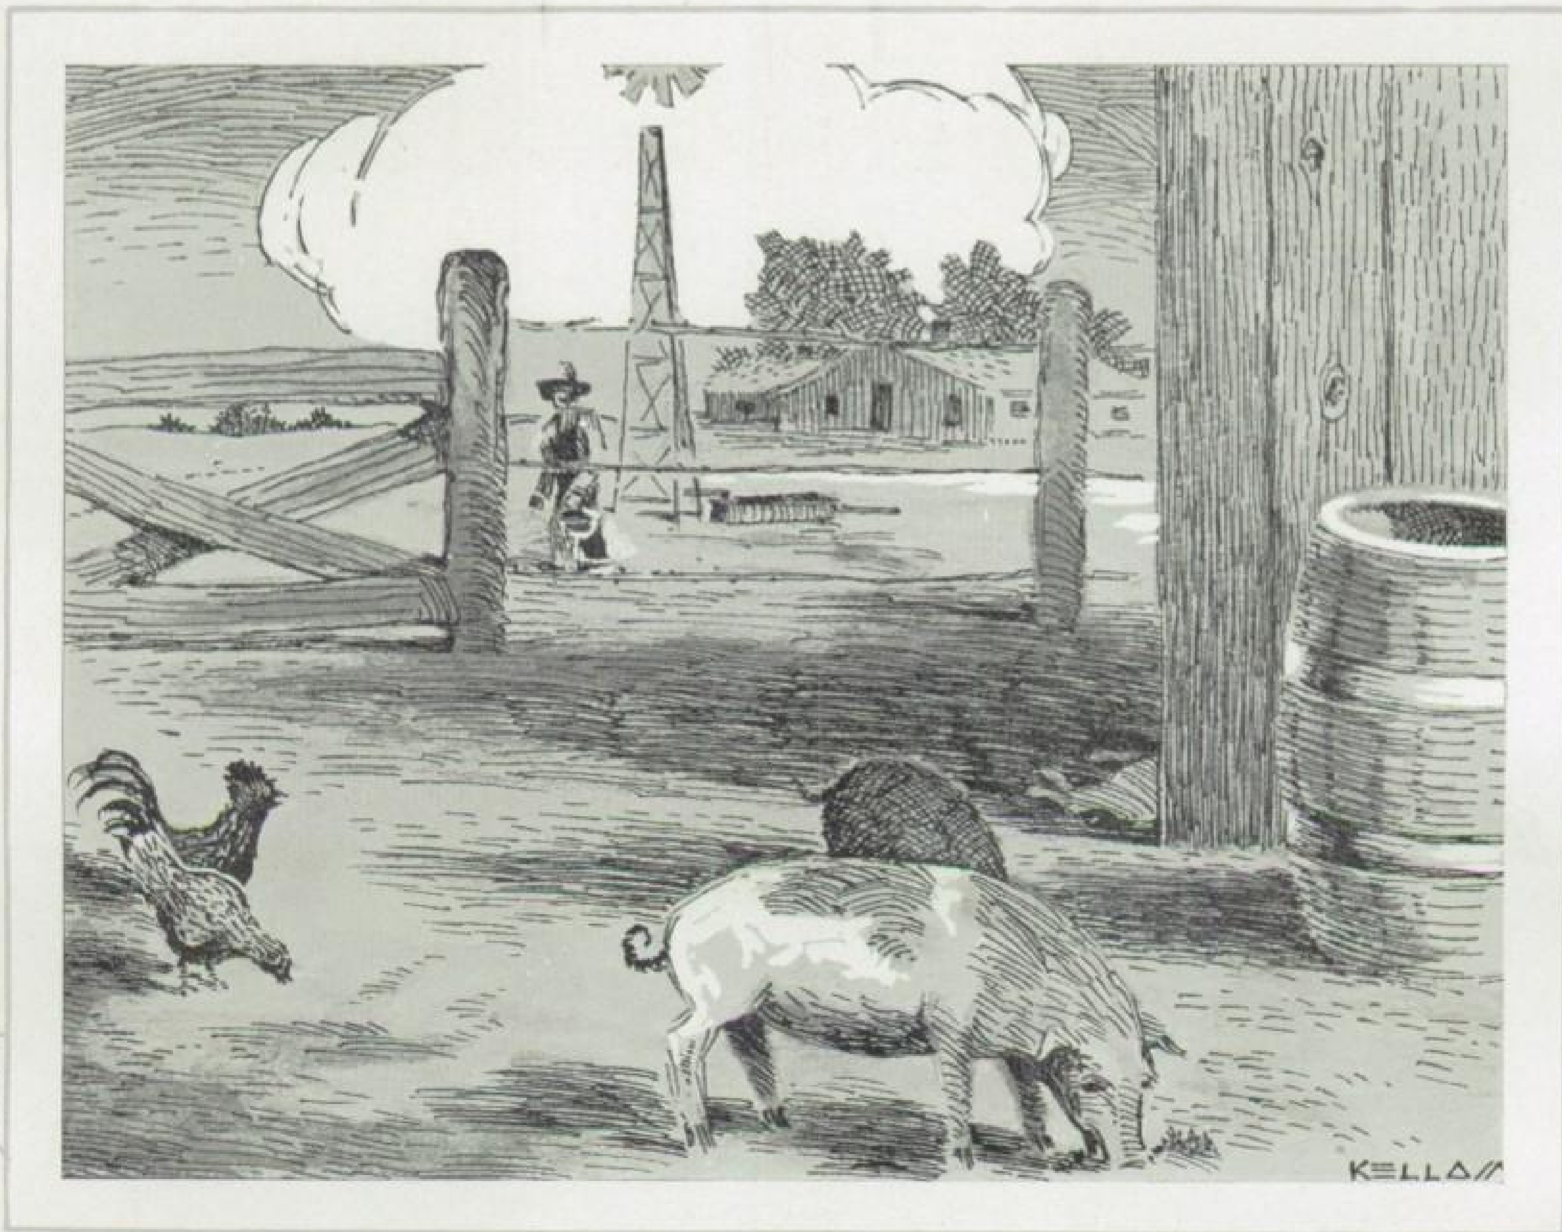

The sweet hams in the smokehouse lie;
The sausage links are clinging,
In dark-brown loops to rafters low
And subtle incense flinging.
On pantry shelves the fall jars stand,
Filled high with summer's sweetness:
Pears, peaches, quince, and apricots,
A dream of skill and neatness.

The canned fruit fills the space below,
A golden promise keeping
To us who worked to fill them, now
That fruits and plants are sleeping.
What if wife's bonnet may not be
The very latest fashion?
I'm satisfied with old clothes, too;
They're in my daily ration.

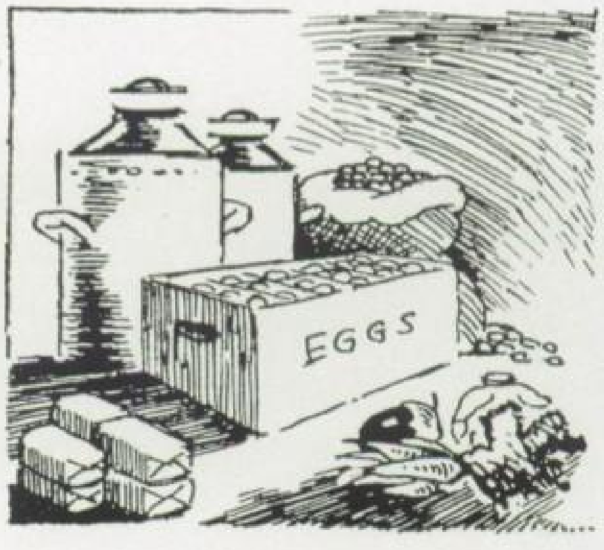

Well, kings may come and kings may go,
And politicians flounder;
But down in Texas on my farm
We find life sweeter, sounder,
And simpler, yes, and kinder, too,
Than "false fronts" on Fifth Avenue,
Who fidget all their lives and fret,
But never raise a healthy sweat.

TWELFTH AND RIO GRANDE VALLEY

Twelfth and Rio Grande Valley Chamber of Commerce

Office of Secretary

Dear Public,
Everywhere—

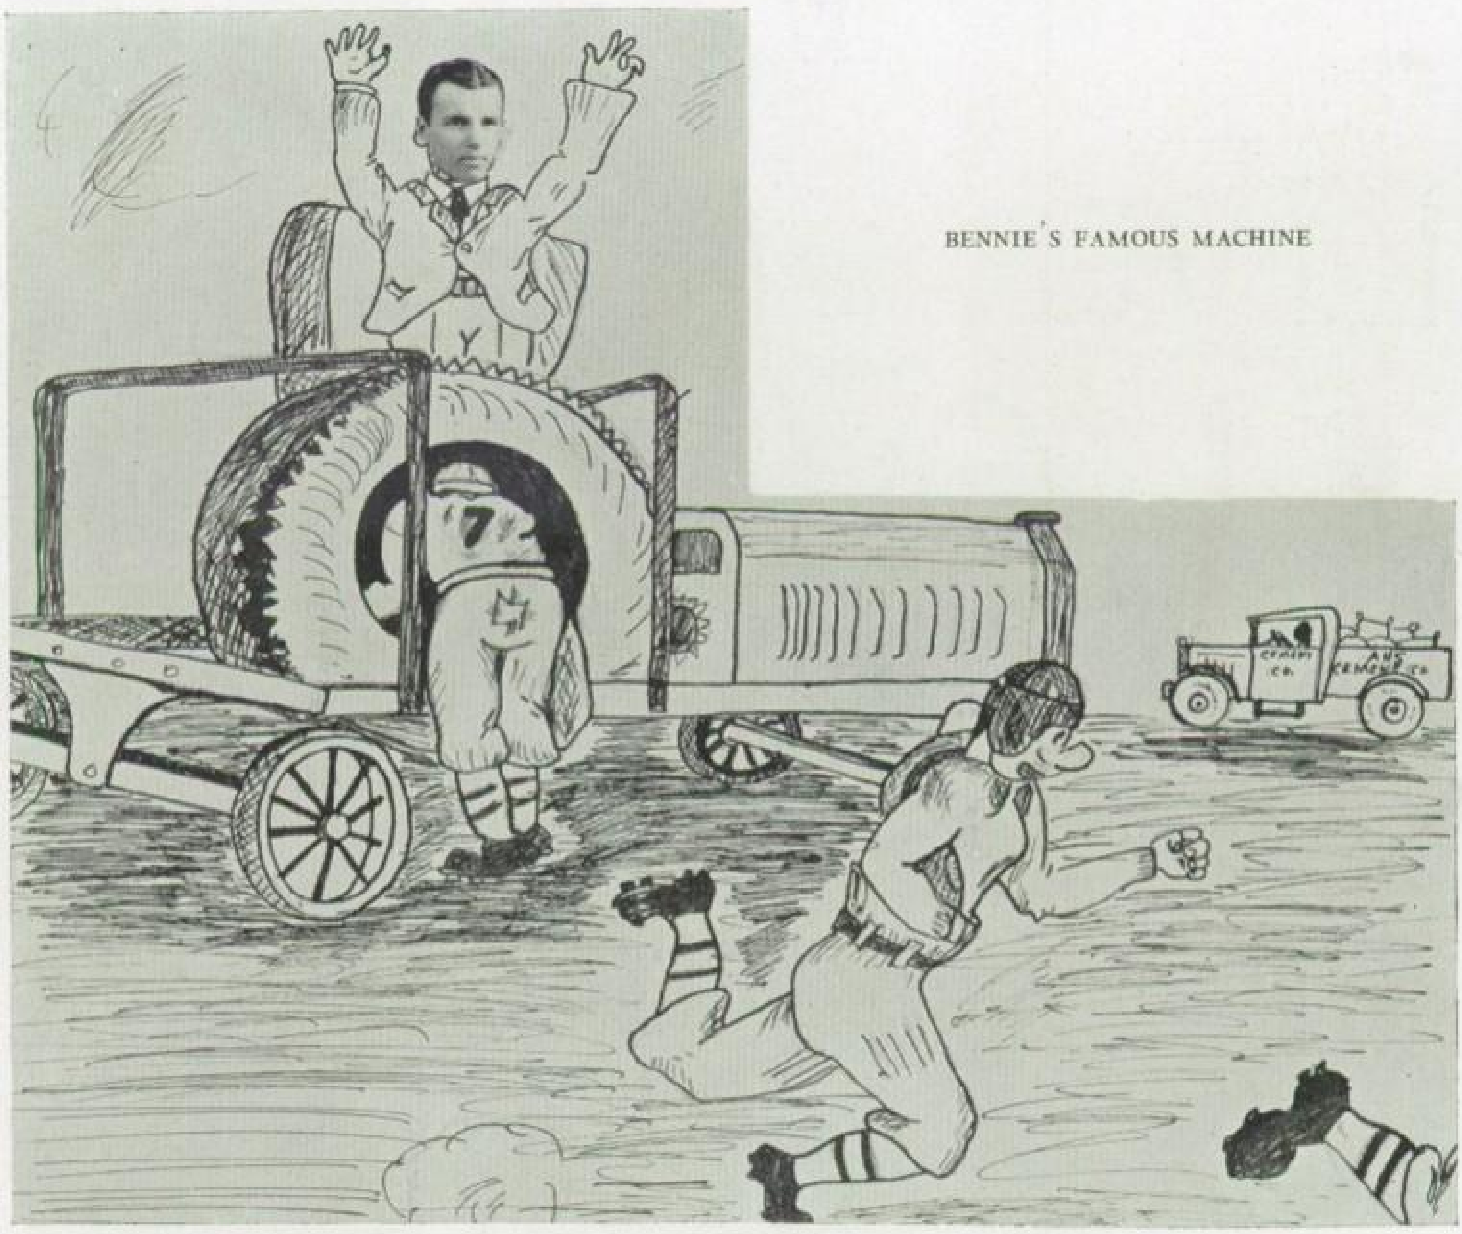

The citizens of the Twelfth and Rio Grande Valley extend you a cordial invitation to live in the land of milk and meatloaf. We have the greatest industrious center in the south. As yet there are no railroads, but the Rio Grande street car and the Enfield bus are capable substitutes. Our resources are numerous.

The greatest gold field that has ever been discovered in history is found in the Twelfth and Rio Grande Valley. This is proved by the fact that great gold-diggers, like Frances Finks, Benjalyn Ater, Polly Pinckney, Edry Loo Miller, Juanita Cross, and Alma Ruth Sherwood, have permanent offices in this village.

The sugar cane industry is rapidly growing, as the old grads, such as Margaret Howze, Billie Margaret Starnes, Kathryn Cox, Lady Dodson, and Wheeler Lyon are being hoed out, and new plants, as Mona Lee Blackmore, Lena Novy, Margaret Correll, and Mary Frances Keith, are taking their places.

The lemon and nut crop this year is better than usual. Rare specimens, such as Felton Brown, Glevis Cleveland, Harry Gammell, and Edward Gault have been found on the older plants. Many new trees have produced new varieties, such as Lady Cleo Lynn, Sammy Faye LaGrone, and Helen Roberts.

You may feel quite safe in this wonderful valley of progress, due to our highly developed ammunition laboratories and factories. For future reference to this subject, see Miss Florence Brooke, head engineer, and inventor of the high explosives, "Quizzes" and Finals.

BENNIE'S FAMOUS MACHINE

The Land of Milk and Honey

The greatest football machine in the history of this valley was built by Mr. Bennie Strickland this year. It was centered around four powerful cylinders: Pee Wee Beard, Everette Adcock, Buck Friedman, and Joe Beard.

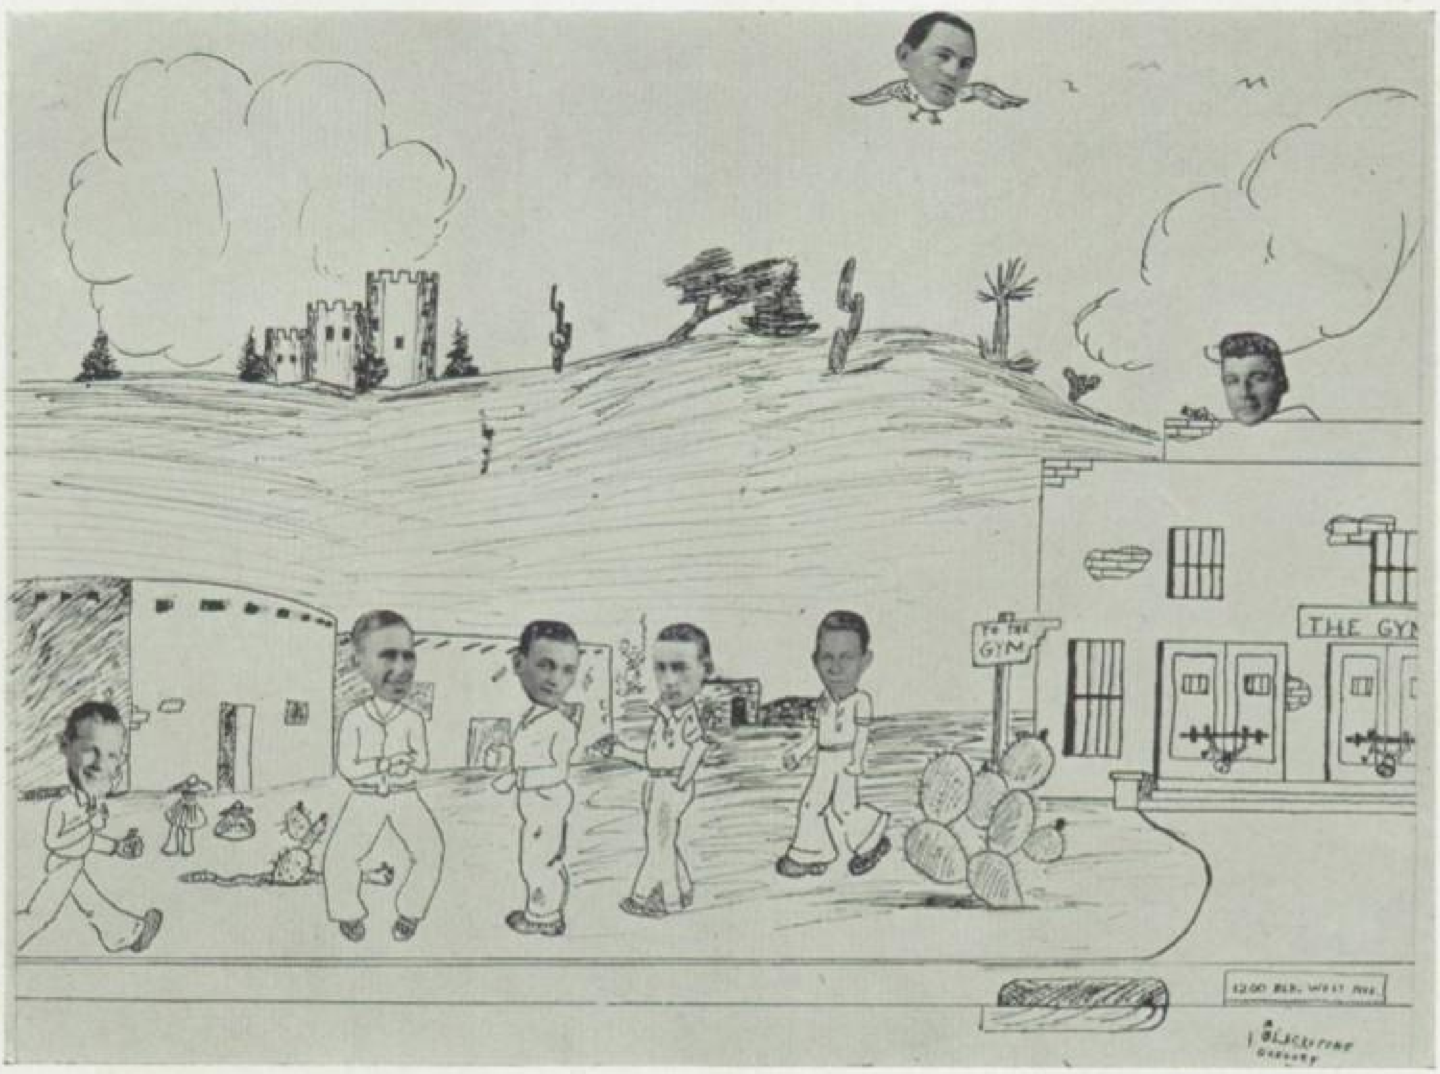

While you are staying in the valley, you may live in comfort at the Pitts Hotel, famous for its meatloaf and hot tamales.

The climate in the Twelfth and Rio Grande Valley is most desirable the year around. Two proofs of this are the Schwab twins. When these two boys came to the valley, they both looked like Gandhi. Now, look at them—the perfect picture of health! All due to the wonderful climate and good food! Everyone in this valley lives to see a ripe old age. These are such people, happy and contented here, as Johnnie Ransom, Frank Burnette, the tallest person in the valley, Sam Dickens who is getting dopey but still gets around, and "Hoss" Cook, who rides horses for his health. They have been here so long that they feel like a part of the coconuts and pecans that grow on the beautiful trees of our wonderful valley of progress and health.

The purpose of this letter, ladies and gentlemen, is to encourage you to come to this marvelous land of almonds (Hind's Honey) and grease paint, and spend your time working cross word puzzles and eating grapefruit. For future information see or write

Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

POLITICAL AFFAIRS IN A. H. S.

Perhaps the most exciting thing that happened in the Twelfth and Rio Grande Valley this year was the political campaign carried on by the candidates for the office of Student Council President.

Senator Louis Wilkerson with his trick-voice, big cigars, and swaying air of dignity, carried on, with his capable business manager, Jack Taylor, a heated argument against his nearest opponent, Frances Rather, Senator Wilkerson started his campaign by appealing to the public for what he was. Seeing that he would be badly beaten if he followed these tactics, the senator then turned ventriloquist, and the public voted for him thinking he was somebody else.

Miss Frances Rather of the house of Huddle appealed to the public's sense of pity by asking them to vote for her because she was a girl. This was very effective, not to say affecting, as some of the school sheiks would do anything for something that has a skirt on. Miss Rather was nominated by the famous colored star, Johnnie Green. Her campaign manager was the ever popular "Red" Ramsey. Mr. Ramsey is a member of the Buma Cig frat, and due to this Miss Rather received many votes, as this frat is the largest of its kind in school. Mr. Ramsey kept his candidate's name before the public constantly with signs, which made wonderful book cover stickers—due to the depression.

The rest of the candidates were Creekmore Fath, Bascom Lang, and Ed Walker, but they managed their own affairs, so they did not come out so hot.

Rather and Wilkerson went into the run-off. Dirty rumors began to fly. Everybody accused everybody else of arson, grand larceny, and libel. In the mad confusion, Wilkerson won out by a narrow squeak. The ventriloquist again!

SEZ ME

This is a typical Hoytian intelligence test. If you can answer all the following truthfully and without hesitation, you are due to a promotion in something. I don't know what, but you can ask deah Miss Martin for it. Answer these true or false. True means that I don't know what I'm taking about, but false, goodness, children, that is a naughty story.

1. The 'Comet' has never asked for money.
2. The shortest distance between two X points is from Miss Von Rosenberg's room to Mr. Wells's office.
3. Bernadine Golden has to crank her Mamma's bus.
4. Louis Wilkerson thinks he is a 'mutt.'

THE VALLEY TEACHERAGE

Calendar of School Year

Sept. 14. Back to the same old grind. Barton's seems far off and the old school is still the hottest place ever. Gus, Ben M., Tebo, are back again for another attempt to snatch a sheepskin. Martha G. and Harry Garner like the ol' school so well they just had to come back; I think Martha had somebody in view too. (T. H.)

Sept. 15. A crowd rushes over to the Drug Store to eat lunch, and, when the great feast is at its height, Miss Frances makes her appearance and all run out the back door, only to find Mr. Wells on the corner to get names, and students get hours—Oh have pity, Mrs. Crofoot!

Sept. 16. It looks as if the office had turned into a 5 and 10 cent store. Pencils 5c and Locks 75c. Miss Frances, as the clerk, is busy selling ribbons for the football games. Keep those colors flying, Miss Martin.

Sept. 22. Watch out—they have the Hall Monitors out—"Where is your permit?" Election for the honorable members of the Student Council. Hypatians start their call meetings early; nothing like keeping up appearances, you know.

Sept. 24. Assembly at noon for "the younger group" so the candidates for yell leaders can show off. "Red" Taber is pretty good! Hurrah for the Athletic Council! They "lighted" the way for our night football games.

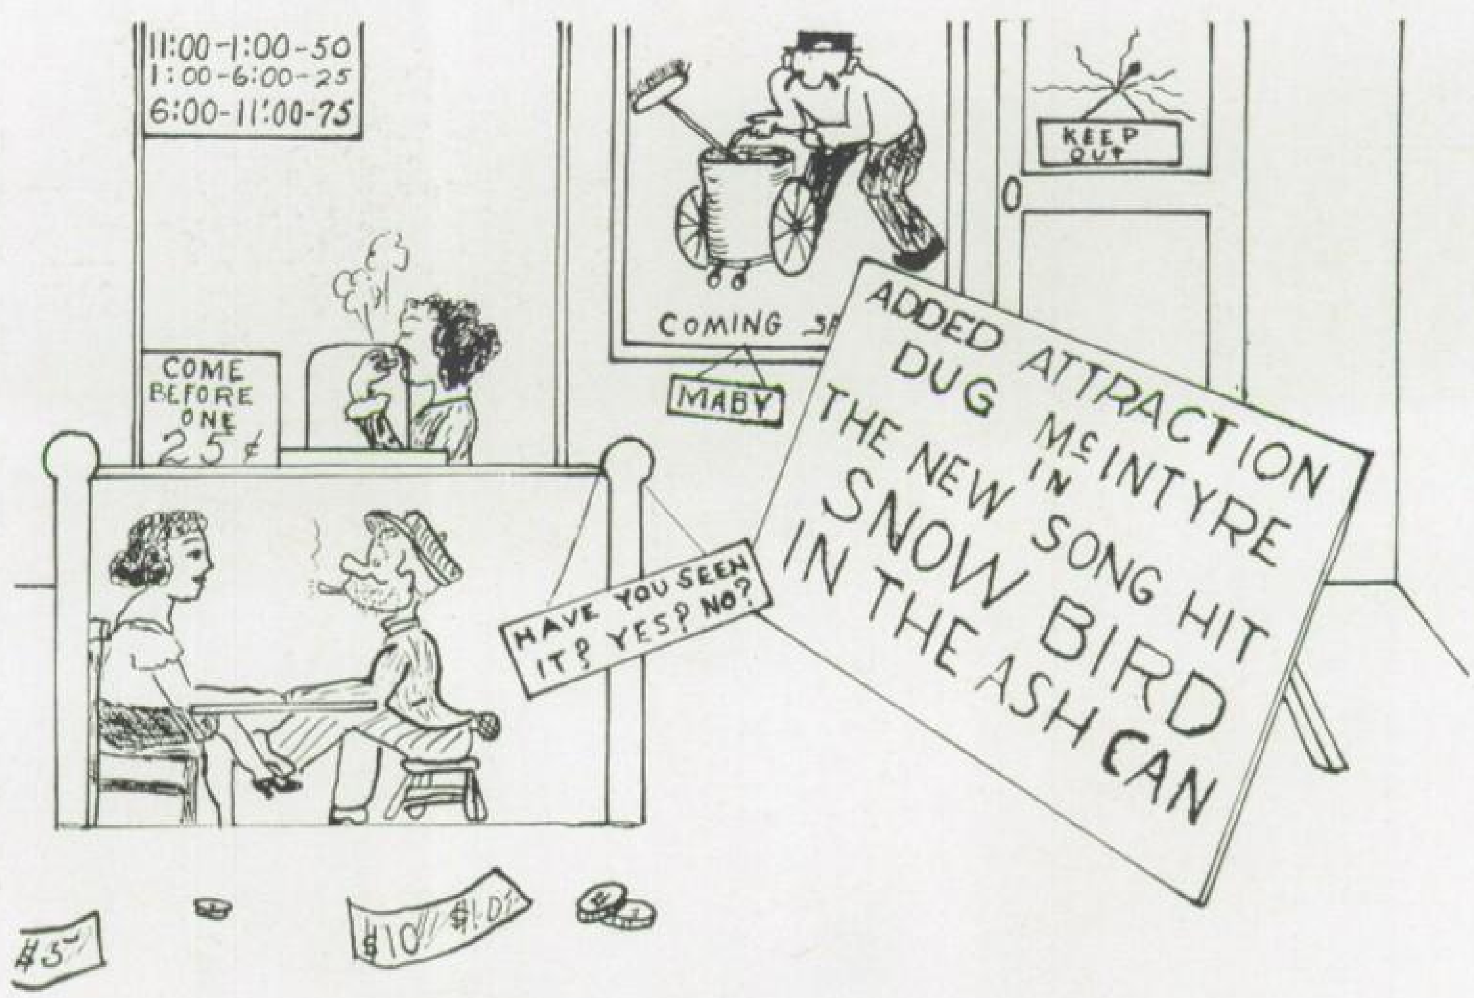

Oct. 8. P. T. A. meets—Fond mothers come to see why their offsprings got U-notes.

Oct. 9. Poly's plan silver tea. Talk about "Gold Diggers"—some of the world's worst! They want Your money so They can give a dance.

Oct. 19. Hurrah for the U. S. Army Band. We get out at 2:30 so the good little students can hear them.

Oct. 27. Al Sullivan's wreck fails to run. Report cards come out—students start practicing writing their old man's name.

THE CLASH OF THE HEAVYWEIGHTS

MISS ALICE HARRISON, WHO WON A BATHING BEAUTY CONTEST IN LOS ANGELES LAST YEAR.*

OUR MAJESTY'S CONTEST

This year a most extraordinary gala (?) event was celebrated. The Maroon and Comet Staffs put their intelligent domes together'n' decided they had to make some dough P. D. Q. Suddenly Mr. Wells (Peter to you) and Charles McKenzie hit upon an idea. They decided to run a contest (votes one cent apiece and the public was gypped at that) for a Queen and a festival. At this festival the favorites (the dumb-looking mugs right after the feature section) were to be presented. Those who managed to hang on thru the run-off were: Betty Boggs, Ellen Steck, Essie Mae Wentworth, Icy Belle Taplin, Lucille Dickerson, Henri Mae Thompson, Juanita Cross, Helen Sharp, Margaret Murray, Sara Scott, Dorothy Rather, and last but not least, Kitty Cornwell.

Among the supporters of the girls were George Sparks, Billy Tarver, George Sparks, George Sparks, Robert Patterson, Freddie Parson, Ed Hill, Ben King, and last but not least, George Sparks.

Charles Burton McKenzie ran the show, consequently a big time was had by all the Huddlers.

*No, children, this is not the green card lady.

APRIL FOOL COUPLES

Here are some of the couples who have been going together for a long time. In fact they've gone together so long that the county clerk has been inquiring as to why they haven't bought their marriage licenses.

The most spectacular couple are Charles Clark and Juanita Cross. This couple have the same ideas about everything. One never sees Charlie without Juanita.

Another cute couple are Johnnie Ransom and Margaret Jane Hofer. Johnnie has a hard time keeping up with her, as she is so fast.

Jack Starkey and Claudia Blum are "like that" about each other. Jack is cu-razy about the way she fixes her eyebrows.

Polly Pinckney is simply wild about Myron Murphy. She likes his carefree ways. Myron is always wanting to take her to dances and shows, but Polly had rather sit at home and look into Myron's lovely dreamy eyes, and watch him walk like Charlie Chaplin.

Sam "Dopey" Dickens and Alice Sutherland look swell together. Sam is so slow that he can hardly keep up with Alice, but he manages. "Where there's a will, there's a way" you know.

Landis Mahaffey and Lillian Roberts are two of a kind. They make all of the dances together. You oughta see Landis gaze at her when they are dancing.

DAVID RIDES THE BANDWAGON TO THE OPERETTA AND THEN RIDES THE RAIL

STUNG!

And now, folks, we are about to tell you of the country boy who came to the lighted city of the Twelfth and Rio Grande Valley, looking for "sweeties" and "honeys," and got stung. We are speaking of none other than Creekmore Fath, alias, "Homer Zilch." "Creekie" had always heard of the Valley as a place where "honeys" were plentiful. He came here and, as he walked thru the dark halls of the old institute, he caught a glimpse of a he-man's prayer—none other than Essie Mae Wentworth. As he gazed into her eyes, his heart beat at his ribs until they knocked like the motor in his faithful ole Ford. He fell for her, like many others, —he felt as tho' he was in heaven. BUT—one day he saw her leaving school with a handsome brunette. She got in his car with him and was whirled away like a flash. She had deceived poor Creekie.

All that nite he moaned for his lost love. The next morning when he went to school, his heart was heavy. When he reached school, his pals saw how forlorn he was and asked him if he was ill. When he related his story about the brunette, his pals laughed and told him that the sheik was "Hal," Essie Mae's brother.

CREEKMORE GOES AFTER SWEETIES AND GETS STUNG

CLUB HOPS

POLYHYMNIANS

The Poly Parrots' struggle was held on the fatal nite of December 28, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Driskill Hotel. The dance started off with a big bang! The grand march was led by Frances Tucker and Charles Heacock. Frances wore Bostonians No. 10 and baby faced Charles walked like a national guarder. The grand march turned out to be a grand push. The stags watched the progress with a broad grin on their faces, meaning that they were glad that they weren't being pulled around by some frail.

There were no Christmas decorations besides the chaperons.

HYPATIANS

The Hypos' wiggle took place on the twenty-third nite of December. Mr. Burton received the guests and took up the bids. This resulted in a grand rush for the Hypos, as many stags were let in. Johnny Green and Tom Hill were in good spirits (?) and kept the chaperons awake. Fred Gardner's Troubadors furnished the music—which was the only good thing about the dance. The dancing lasted as long as the stags did.

HOW LINGLE KEEPS KISSABLE

Dear Helen:

We finally got that letter off to Herman last nite. Mother and Daddy went to a show and we were supposed to be studying. After we wrote the letter, we phoned to Weston Union for a messenger to come mail it. I couldn't find a cent in the house so we broke in Betty's penny bank. The guy promised to put a special on it. It was the most pitiful letter. I bet he cries all over it. I think we can get him, if we can put a taboo on Miss Marshall. We've got to. Imagine the Hyps having Fred Gardner. The idea.

El.

THE LETTER

Dear Mr. Waldman:

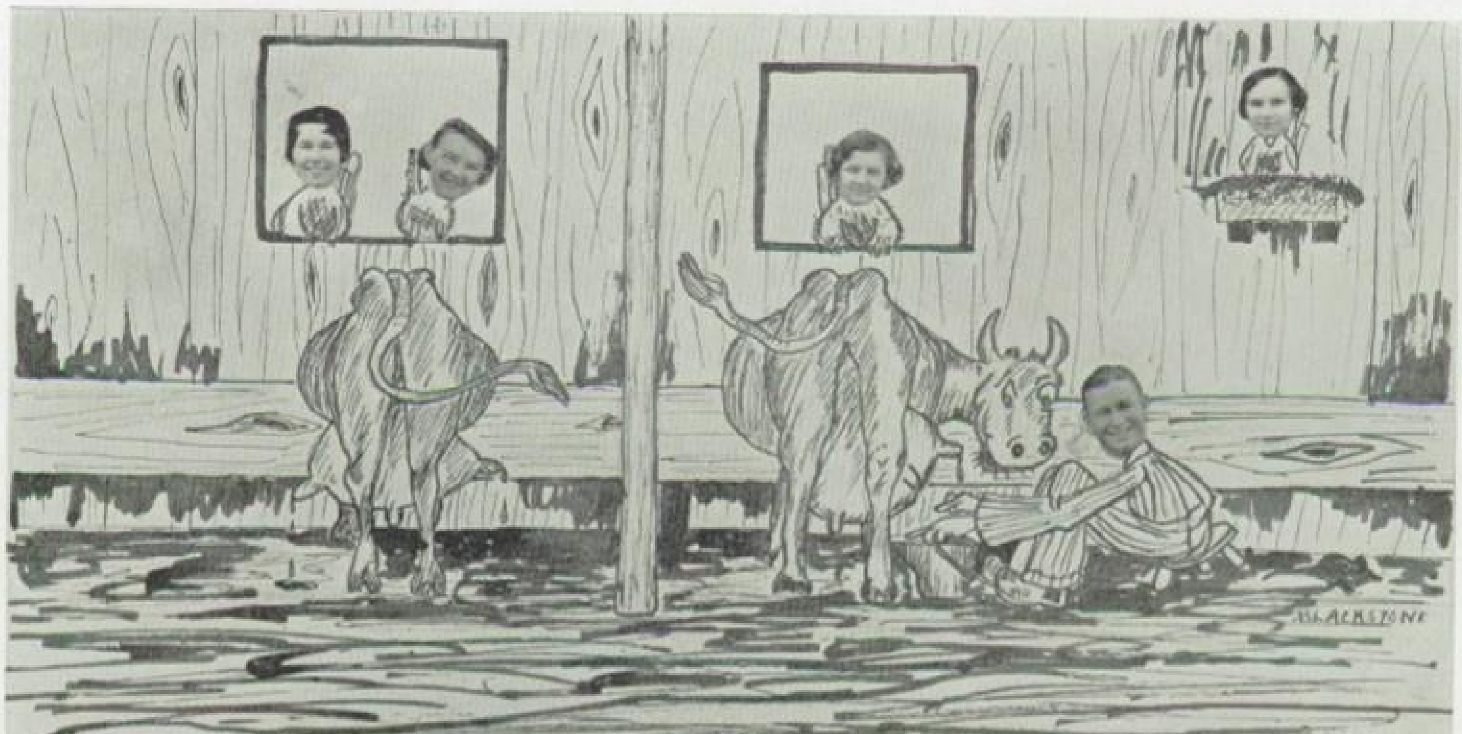

The worst has happened. You remember we wrote you last summer about playing for our Christmas dance? Well, the other club, the one we just live to better, has engaged the best orchestra in Austin for their dance. We know it's awfully late to be asking you anything about it, but we are just desprite. All the other orchestras are dated solid for Christmas week, and the dance just means everything to us.

It's going against the school rules to pay over $75.00 for the orchestra but beings the other club has broken all rules, we feel a slight priviledge to do the same. Mr. Waldman, won't you play for us on the 28th? We can't possibly pay over $125.00, but if you won't do it for that, we'll even wear our last year's evening dresses and pay the difference.

You just can't imagine how hard it is for us to raise the money, because the Mexicans don't want any rummage.

Please answer us right away. We've got to know by Sat. or we probably can't even have our dance. It just means all our Christmas for us, so please, please, play for us for as cheap as you can. If you can't play for us on the 28th, we'll have our dance on any other nite except the 22nd or Jan. 1. Any other time 'll be O. K. by us. We won't sleep or eat until we hear from you. Please answer quick.

PASTORAL BLISS IN THE VALLEY

THE STUDENT'S HOUR

Between the daylight and the darkness
When school is beginning to close,
Comes to each girl a long occupation,
For now she must powder her nose.

There is Ellen with lipstick and powder,
And Evelyn with rouge box in hand,
While Juanita, Elizabeth, and Billie are waiting
To paint like the rest of the band.

When Merle hands hairpins to Josephine
To pin back her long shining curls,
Thru the rest-room door they all go trooping,
The rest of the unpainted girls.

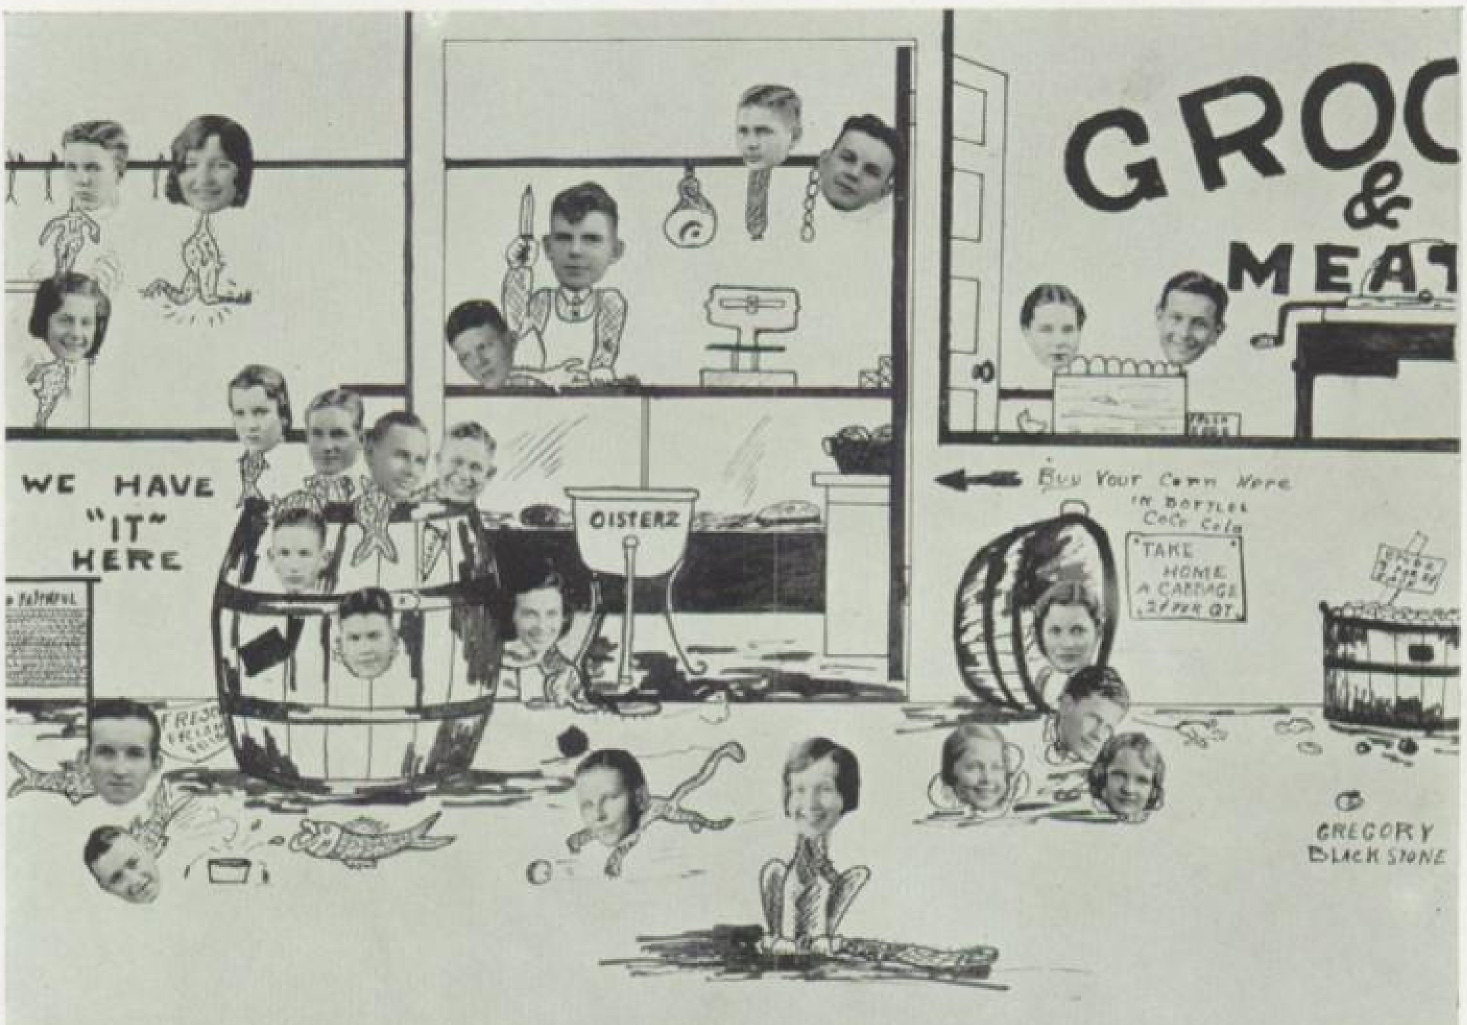

Now the student's hour is finished,
And school day has come to a close,
Has ended the girl's occupation,
For now she has powdered her nose.

—By Johnnie Joseph.

WOULDN'T IT BE GRAND IF—

2. Ellen Steck were as sophisticated as she thinks Ellen is?

THE VALLEY FISH MARKET

LAZY DAYS

I saw the little stars
Wink and fade away;
I saw the Dawn's first sunbeams,
The coming of the day.

I saw the little daisy
Her petals open fling;
I heard the first faint buzzing,
The crickets's morning sing.

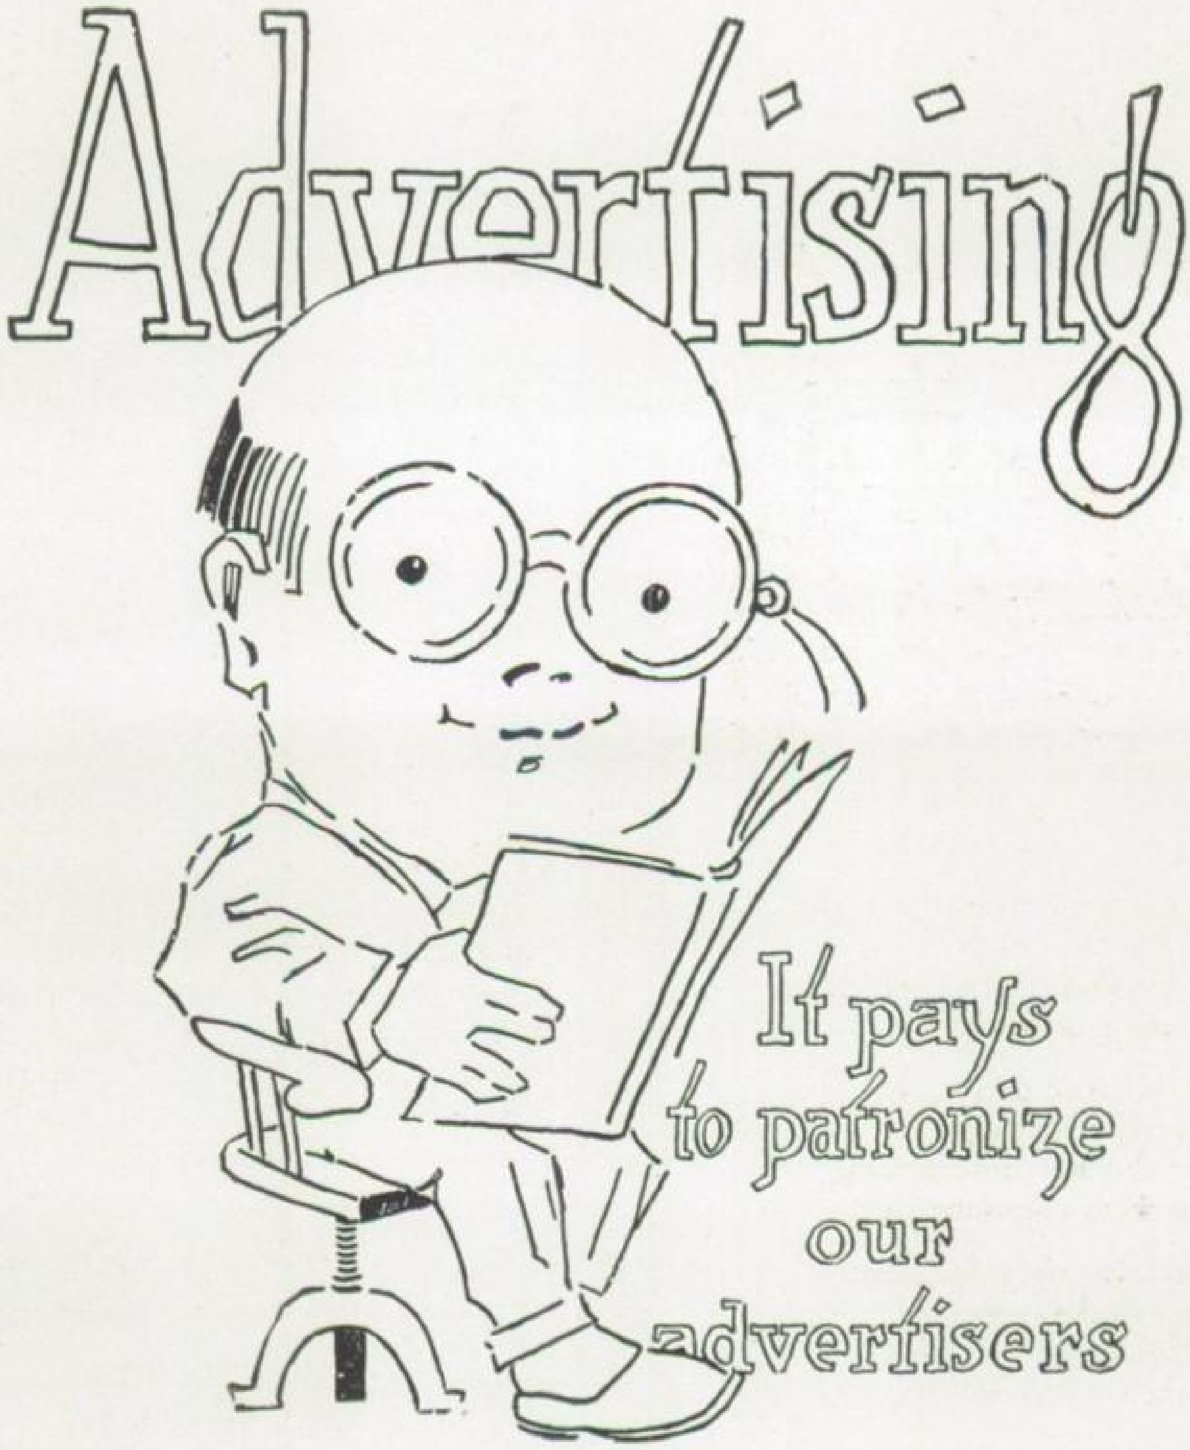

I heard two angry squirrels
Chatter in the trees;
I smelled the open freshness;
I felt the cooling breeze.

I sat entranced to hear a bird
His throaty song rehearse
And I was glad I hadn't had
To plan the Universe.

J. E. McDonald: Your father was a college man, wasn't he?

Charles McKenzie: Yes, but we never mention it. The college he went to had a rotten football team.

Mr. Hoyt: Why did you spell "Bank" with a capital B?

Arthur Hoffman: Because Emil says a bank is no good unless it has a large capital.

Geometry is like an onion,
You try it with delight;
But when you flunk you wonder
What ever made you bite.

Jennie Marie Goodwin: I wish God had made me a boy.

Moreland Chapman: He did. I'm he.

Mrs. Smoot: Tell me the truth, Woodrow, who did your homework?

Woodrow Blomdahl: Mother, but I helped her with it.

Billy Houston (arrested for speeding): But officer, I'm a high school boy.

Judge: Ignorance doesn't excuse anybody.

Herbert Wells: Go on, Essie Mae, read at sight.
Essie Mae: I'm not sure of that next word, is it sweetness?
H. W. Yes, sweetness, go on.

Mrs. Harris: "Mr. Eggling, parse 'me'."
Eggie: "Me is a —"
Mrs. H.: "That is wrong; say 'I am'."

Mr. Barnett in Physics: Work the exercise, hand it in and I will give you credit for it.
Frank Hubert: I would rather have the cash.

Miss Martin: Why don't you get a wife?

Mr. Grasty: I might get a bad one.

Miss Martin: Trust to Providence and you'll be all right.

Mr. Grasty: I'm not so sure, because Providence has to dispose of the bad as well as the good.

Bennie: Eggie, why are you talking to yourself?

Eggie: Well, I have two reasons, first, I like to hear a good, sensible man talk, and second, I like to talk to a good sensible man.

Mr. Grasty: Are you chewing gum?

Josephine McSpadden: No, sir, I am Josephine McSpadden.

Dolly Louise Johnson (gazing at report card): Well, now I'm as famous as George Washington.

Beverly A.: How come?

Dolly: I went down in history today.

Dorothy Littlepage in class being teased: Teacher's Pet! Teacher's pet!

Dorothy: Do they?

Mr. Strickland: Every time I look at your dress it makes me laugh.

Mrs. Strickland: That's fine. I'll put it on when the bill comes.

Jack T.: Ever been pinched for speeding?

Clarence C.: No, but I've been slapped for going too fast.

Charles Clark in English Class: Austin, The Capital of Texas, has the honor of being my home.

Mrs. Hudnall: How do you tell the age of a turkey?
Johnny R.: By the teeth.
Hudnall: A turkey has no teeth.
Johnny: No, but I have.

John: I understand that John Green wanted you to act as his secretary.

Laura Simmons: He did, but I was not willing to accept the honor of such a position, because I would have to sign everything "Green, per Simmons."

Woodrow Alexander (in the country for the first time: Gee, this is just like grass, ain't it?

Frank Norris: Why, it is grass.

Woodrow: No, it isn't, because you don't have to keep off it.

Mrs. Boggs: Where do bad little girls go?
Betty: Most everywhere.

Mr. Heacock: Charles, why are these grades so low?

Charles: The depression has just now reached school, father.

Auteene: Why do women talk more than men?

Clem: Because we have you men to talk about.

Voted the most conceited answer of the year: When Mr. Grissom asked Rose Alice Roberts if she held an office in the dramatic club, Rose Alice said, "No, I didn't join it until late."

GLORIFYING THE AMERICAN
GOLD DIGGER

One day I sat out on the beach
And saw as far as eye could reach
Gold diggers with peroxide hair
With red heads scattered here and there.

I wondered what the old timers think
To see the girls of house and sink
Out on the streets taking their places
With carmined lips and rouged faces.

It really hurts these old time diggers
Quick of temper and quick of trigger,
And they think with many a kick:
She carries an air drill instead of a pick.

Building Foreman: Excuse me, but are you the lady wot's singing?

Linell Loney: Yes, I was singing, why?

Foreman: Might I ask you not to hold the high notes so long? The men have knocked off twice, mistaking it for the noon whistle.

Sam Blackstone: I dreamed of you last night.

June Chote: "Really?" (coldly).

Sam: Yes, then I woke up, shut the window, and put an extra blanket on the bed.

Mr. Wells: What is the formula for water?

Essie Mae: H I J K L M N O.

Mr. Wells: How come?

Essie Mae: You said, sir, from H to O.

The visiting Englishman in the street car stared in fascinated horror at the ugliest infant he had ever seen. The mother across the aisle became annoyed and finally said indignantly, "Rubber!"

"Thank goodness, I fawncied it might be real."

HOW TO START A CAR

1. Crank car.
2. Reason with car.
3. Promise to wash car. This will bring response if car has forceful personality.
4. Threaten car with violence. Kick tires. Car will be frightened.
5. Make crude remarks in car's hearing. Car, if nice car, will blush and turn hot all over. Engine being warm, car will start readily.
6. Honk at strange girls. Girls will give a cold look. Car will shiver and so start.
7. Read "Maroon" to car. Car will shake with mirth, chuckle and start.
8. As a last resort, see if there is any gas in the tank.

MY GIRL

My girl must come in handy,
And have me as her pet;
But she must not eat candy,
Nor smoke a cigarette.

My girl must cut out drinking,
And wear long dresses too;
Or I'll get down to thinking,
Of what I'll have to do.

My girl must love a joker,
And never wait up nights,
As I am playing poker,
And have to have my rights.

War Hoss.

Scott Keeling: If we were not in a boat, I should kiss you.

Mary (Indignantly): Take me ashore immediately.

Mrs. Horne: Why is the first finger on the statue of Liberty's hand only 11 inches long?

Louis S.: Why, if it were 12 inches long it would be a foot.

Lucile Moore: Why do women talk more than men?

Roland Blackmore: Because they have the men to talk about.

Gus: I haven't spoken to Margaret Bellmont for three days.

Mr. Burton: Why, were you angry?
Gus: No, I didn't want to interrupt her.

The task is finished, but only for today
Tomorrow will bring forth new work

Here is the fruit of toil. Into this work is woven the moments of many hours and here is fashioned the labor and hearts of many. It has been work inspired by the hope that because of it some good will come. If this can be, what matters it if time meant for rest has been spent for labor—where is the loss if hours have been taken from the night to lengthen the day?

All service and all achievement, great or small, demands some sacrifice. Work must precede realization, and the love of work is the greater part of compensation. By comparison, no work is perfect. Today's efforts are better than the past, and the toil of Tomorrow will excel the task of the hour—but none have been, nor will ever be, more engaging. This work has indeed been pleasant to those who brought it into being, and it has been our pleasure to work with them.
